Great Drive Of Reds Being Checked

-- Net Effect Will Be Rollback, DiSalle Says

Manufacturers Told To Reprice Products

Processed Foods, Home Appliances And Auto Tires Affected By New Ceilings

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The government Tuesday ordered some 75,000 manufacturers to figure new ceiling prices for thousands of items, including a wide range of processed foods, home appliances and auto tires.

Price Chief DiSalle in issuing the regulation said there will be some increases and decreases, but the "net effect will be a roll-back in the general level of manufacturers' prices."

DiSalle

The new price lids will be reflected at the consumer level, but Disalle could not estimate how soon. The regulation is effective May 28.

Disalle said "this order will roll back unjustifiably high prices and afford relief to most hardship cases under the general freeze, and it thus consitutes a major step toward restoration of equitable industrial prices."

Candy and Cookies

Briefly, the order allows manufacturers to add increased labor and materials cost to their pre-Korean selling prices. It will result in rolbacks, however, on manufacturers who greatly increased their profit margins during the buying rush that followed outbreak of the war.

Items involving annual gross sales of approximately 70 billion dollars are covered. Among the affected processed foods are candy, breakfast cereals, macaroni, spaghetti, potato chips, soup mixes, mustard, baking powder, canned fish, gellatin desserts, crackers, pretzels and packaged cookies.

Other items include radios, television sets, refrigerators washing machines, ranges, furniture, many building materials, hardware, tires and rubber products, most chemicals, paper and paper products and many textile products.

The order was issued amid these developments:

The office of price stabilization extended for 30 days, until May 30, the deadline for retailers to file pricing charts under regulations setting new maximums for apparel, home furnishings and the like.

The national production authority exempted medical équipment from a 20 per cent production cutback order and established a three-man appeal board to hear industry's complaints over mobilization controls.

THE WEATHER

NEBRASKA: Rain or drizzle east and central, rain or snow extreme west Wednesday, ending Wednesday night; colder southeast; Thursday partly cloudy; warmer west and north central; highs Wednesday 35-40 west, mid-40s east.

KANSAS—Cloudy and windy Wednesday, with scattered showers or thunderstorms east, occasional light rain or drizzle northwest; cooler over west and central portions Wednesday; high 40 northwest to 70 southeast.

.67 Inch Rain Fills Gutters

Lincoln Receives .91 Inches In 30 Hours

Lincoln gutters were running full early Wednesday morning after .67 inches of rain fell in the six hour period ending at 12:30 a. m.

The new deluge brought to .91 inches the 30-hour moisture total, and to 3.18 the April total thus far. Normal for the entire month is 2.53 inches.

Meanwhile, western Nebraska, badly in need of more moisture for its crippled winter wheat crop, was promised just that Wednesday. And the east, where farmers are beginning to regard rain as a curse due to the need for getting into their fields, was also listed by the weather bureau for more showers.

Covers State

The late forecast said "rain or drizzle east and central and rain or snow west."

The precipitation was widespread in Nebraska, with almost all points reporting either snow or rain Tuesday and early Wednesday.

Representative totals for the 30-hour period ending at 12:30 a.m. Wednesday were:

Lincoln	.91	Burwell	.20
Omaha	.88	Valentine	.04
North Platte	.02	Scottsbluff	.09
Norfolk	.43	Chadron	.12
Grand Island	.30

A. E. Anderson, state federal crop statistician in Lincoln said Tuesday the wheat was "badly damaged by the dry autumn and winter weather" but that, if western Nebraska gets enough moisture and warmth, enough wheat to produce a fair crop might be saved.

Dawes Rites Wednesday

CHICAGO—(AP) — A church funeral service and private burial are planned Wednesday for Gen. Charles Gates Dawes.

The former vice president of the United States, a one-time Lincoln lawyer, died Monday night at the age of 85 while quietly reading in his library.

The soldier, banker and statesman had spent the evening working on plans for Gen. MacArthur's arrival in Chicago Thursday. Gen. Dawes had been named honorary chairman of the citizens reception committee.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p.m. in the First Congregational church in suburban Evanston. The Rev. Martin L. Goslin will officiate. Burial in Rosehill cemetery will be private.

Way Cleared To Purchase Park Meters

Martin Fails To Post $3,000 Bond

Mayor Victor E. Anderson can now sign the contract with M. H. Rhoads, Inc. for purchase of 350 Mark Time parking meters, as the injunction suit against the city to prevent such action is now over for all practical purposes.

In bringing the action against the city, Donald A. Martin, 4912 Randolph, was told by the court that he must post a $3,000 bond by April 24 or the temporary injunction order issued against the city would be lifted.

Martin failed to post the stipulated bond Tuesday so the city is free to sign the meter contract. A hearing on the case was set for May 16, but according to Deputy City Attorney C. Russell Mattson the case now is a "moot" question and the suit will probably be dropped.

Since the contract will have been signed by May 16, reasoned Mattson, there will be nothing left to enjoin according to the suit.

Martin told The Star Tuesday night he had decided against posting the additional bond and "let the city council take the responsibility for an illegal act if they want to."

He said he would continue to fight the case against the parking meters, though his failure to post the additional bond meant the city would go ahead with the purchase if they wished.

Crime Probe Is Extended Until Sept. 1

O'Conor Replaces Kefauver As Head

WASHINGTON — (AP)— The senate's crime investigation will go at least until next Sept. 1 and perhaps longer, but with a new chairman, Sen. O'Conor (D-Md).

And Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn), who wanted to quit after leading the committee through a year of sensational exposes aimed mainly at interstate gambling tie-ups, will stay on as a member.

The program was worked out late Tuesday in a compromise promoted by the senate democratic policy committee. It was swiftly approved by the senate itself, without objection.

Republican members of the special investigating group, Sens. Wiley (Wis) and Tobey (NH) had wanted an extension to Jan. 15, with $150,000 in new money to work with.

They settled, however, for four more months.

Liquor Probe Again Gets No Evidence

Commission Lack Of Action Is Hit

The legislature's liquor-lobby investigating committee pulled a dud Tuesday afternoon as far as obtaining evidence of any wrongdoing in the liquor industry.

All of the three persons connected with the industry who testified said they had no information to offer which would be of value.

The fourth witness, a Pender minister, registered a strong complaint against the liquor commission, saying that the Nebraska Brewers Foundation had helped "clean up" some of liquor establishments in Pedner after he had turned to the Foundation for help.

He said he had received "no satisfaction whatsoever" from the liquor commission.

The town of 1,163 has eight outlets, with the last three being granted over the protests of the town board, he said.

"I can't understand why we have to go to the brewery foundation to get help," he said.

"We had just as well abolish the commission and save us some money."

"Wrangled" With Governor

He said he had "wrangled" with Gov. Peterson on the Pender situation but said he "always got the same answer"—that the governor has no power over the commissioners after he appoints them.

The other three witnesses were Charles Hoye, public relations representative for Nebraska brewers; Rex Olson of the Nebraska Liquor Wholesalers' association; and Paul Blotchky, Omaha liquor wholesaler.

Hoye and Olson, both lobbyists, were questioned by Senator H. G. Wellensiek about their lobbying activities and the monthly expense statements they are re-

M'Mahon Backs Up Truman

Senator Warns Of 'A' Attack If Wrong Road Is Followed In Asia

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) declared Tuesday that the United States capitol may be "blown to smithereens next week" by atomic bombs if this country follows the wrong policy in Asia.

McMahon, chairman of the senate-house atomic energy committee, spoke up for the administration's policy of limiting the Korean war if possible and against Gen. Douglas MacArthur's proposals for broader action against the Chinese communists.

This new defense of President Truman's policies came after announcement was made that the senate inquiry into MacArthur's dismissal, and the foreign policy issues it raised, will begin May 3, a week from next Thursday.

Public Hearings Urged

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the senate armed services committee said he prefers to have MacArthur testify at a closed session. But he added that there will be a public hearing "if the general expresses a desire" for one.

Senate leaders of both parties urged public hearings "as far as possible."

Even before McMahon spoke in the senate, Senator Lehman (D-Lib-N.Y.) took the floor with a charge that MacArthur seeks to involve the nation in a "big war to bring a speedy end to a small one."

The White House, meanwhile, said a statement of President Truman's reasons for ousting MacArthur was sent to MacArthur's command in Tokyo along with the dismissal order.

Presidential Press Secretary Joseph Short gave that reply to an inquiry about Monday's statement by a MacArthur aide in New York that the general never has been told why he was believed of his commands.

President Truman's dismissal order referred to an accompanying statement which said the president had become convinced that MacArthur was "unable to give his wholehearted support" to the policies of the United States and the United Nations.

Lightning Starts Small Roof Fire

Firemen were called to the home of William Fosler, 2027 North Twenty-ninth Tuesday night to put out a blaze started when a bolt of lightning struck the roof.

Battalion Chief Ted Morris said "no damage" was done to the house, but clothing in the attic was afire after part of the bolt evidently went through a front window. Some wiring along which part of the charge traveled was damaged, Morris said.

Fosler said the house "shook" when the bolt struck.

Biggest Enemy Blow Still To Come, Ridgway Warns

Fresh U.N. Troops Help Hold New Line North Of Chunchon-Seoul Road; Foe Uses Camels

CENTRAL FRONT, Korea—(Wednesday)—(AP)—United Nations troops appeared today to have halted the Chinese central front breakthrough seven miles south of the 38th parallel. The allies held firm.

An intelligence officer said the Chinese "may have run out of steam.

"We stood and slugged it out with them and I think they are tired of it," he said.

TOKYO—(Wednesday)—(AP)—Fresh allied troops rushed into the big red breach in central Korea today and stalled a Chinese red breakthrough force seven miles south of the 38th parallel.

But the withdrawing allies appeared to be giving up virtually all their holdings north of 38 inside red Korea.

In the west, United Nations troops fell back closer to Seoul on the fourth day of the counter offensive by up to half a million reds.

READY FOR ACTION—Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth army commander, straps on his ivory-handled .45 caliber automatic at his Korean headquarters Wednesday. The weapon's fancy handle, a gift from the general's soldier son now in Greece, has become a trade mark of the allied chief. (AP Wirephoto Tuesday Night.)

Residents of Seoul began deserting the war-ravaged capital for the third time in the 10-month-old war.

Allied withdrawals already ranged up to 20 miles.

And the allied supreme commander, after a flying visit to the front, warned that the biggest red blow was yet to come.

BREAKTHROUGH STALLS

Reinforcements checked the most menacing breakthrough by 130,000 reds in the center four miles short of Kapyong on the vital Chunchon-Seoul lateral road.

The red forces had blasted a big hole in the allied center at the outset of the offensive, and then poured three army corps through it across the 38th parallel into the Republic of South Korea.

The allies abandoned the 11-mile-long Hwachon reservoir and dam north of the parallel. Then with reinforcements they dug in seven miles south of 38 and prevented the reds from cutting the Chunchon-Seoul road.

WITHDRAW IN WEST

The apparent red aim was to sever the road and cut in behind allied forces defending Seoul.

Today the allies made a general withdrawal in the west down the highway of Uijongbu and Seoul. Uijongbu is 17 miles south of 38 and 10 miles north of Seoul.

A dispatch from Eighth army field headquarters said allied withdrawals east and west of the reservoir left defenders there in a dangerously exposed salient.

REDS SLAUGHTERED

A half million Chinese and North Koreans were pouring down three main dust-clouded avenues into South Korea on foot, in trucks, by horseback and even by camel. They had breached the center of the U.N. line.

Allied air and artillery by night and day slaughtered the attacking waves. But still the enemy came on. As the fourth day of the red offensive opened the communists had made total gains of 20 miles.

Red Costs Unheeded

They swarmed through a hole left by South Korean troops south of Kumhwa on the central front and menaced the allied base at Chunchon, 45 miles northeast of Seoul.

They captured Yonchon and were astride the main north-south highway leading directly down on Uijongbu and Seoul.

On the right flank they captured Inje, four miles north of the 38th parallel, and drove a powerful thrusting column down the rocky mountains of central Korea in a flanking movement.

Phil Murray Is Very Ill

PITTSBURGH—(INS) — Philip Murray, president of the CIO and the United Steelworkers, was reported "holding his own" Tuesday at Mercy hospital where he is confined with a "very severe abdominal complaint."

Neither the hospital nor union officials would elaborate on the nature of the illness.

Dr. Leo O'Donnell, Murray's physician, declined comment and referred all queries to union headquarters.

Murray entered the hospital Sunday. He had attended a dinner at Youngstown, O., Saturday.

Early last February Murray suffered a virus infection and was hospitalized in Washington for about a week. He went to Florida to recuperate and returned to Washington in March, where he has been spending most of his time in prolonged meetings with the united labor policy committee.

Allied Guns Halt Reds On West Front

Ex-Prisoner Of Nazis Is Top Student

A young woman of 25 who seven years ago existed under a death sentence in a Nazi concentration camp today ranks as one of the foremost feminine scholars ever enrolled at the University of Nebraska.

She is Maria Leipelt Bade, whose husband of two years, Bill, formerly of Omaha, graduated from the university at the tip-top of his class in 1949 and won the C. W. Boucher Memorial senior award, one of the highest scholastic honors.

Maria, who entered the university in 1947 with only a fair knowledge of English, came close to matching her husband's stellar performances.

Other Achievements.

Like Bill, Maria won membership in both Phi Beta Kappa, the Arts and Sciences national honorary society, and Sigma Xi, the national scientific honorary. Membership in both societies, in addition to excellent scholarship, demands completion of an exacting schedule of tough courses.

At the university's annual honors day convocation Tuesday, Maria not only received tribute for membership in both the major honorary societies, but also for these other achievements.

She is the winner of national Alpha Lambda Delta scholarship award which is reserved for the outstanding woman student.

Upper 3 Pct.

She won senior membership in Alpha Lambda Delta, thus comcompleting a cycle which began four years ago when she was selected for freshman membership.

She received recognition for superior scholarship, ranking among the upper 3 per cent of the class of 1951.

MIDNIGHT OIL—Maria and Bill Bade, two of the University of Nebraska's topflight students, say this photo is accurate to the extent that it stresses the burning of midnight oil. But, says Maria, they prefer coffee to coke; she usually spends more time with a microscope than a book, and Bill makes more notes on a blackboard than on note paper. (U. of N. Photo.)

Her name appeared also among the 165 highest ranking students of this year's class.

Plans Masters.

Maria accepted her honors in stride. She is intent on winning a bachelor of science degree with distinction in June. She intends to begin work at once on a master's degree. Her general field is physiology. Meanwhile, Husband Bill continues at the university as a graduate student in theoretical physics. He is now a laboratory assistant and will be teaching assistant next fall.

Unlike hundreds of students, Maria had no reason to search the honors day audience for family members. Her father, a mining engineer in Hamburg, Germany, died of a heart attack in 1942 attempting to save his mother-in-law from the Nazis. Her mother, who held a doctor's degree in chemistry, died in a concentration camp, probably in 1943. Her brother Hans Conrad—and of him, Maria says, "He was the brains of the family"—died before a Nazi firing squad in 1945.

Maria has but one tie approaching that of a family relationship. It is her deep affection for Dr. Susi Glaubach, a close friend of her mother. Dr. Glaubach, who now works in a New York hospital, helped Maria when she came to the U.S. in 1946 and Maria hopes she will be able to attend her graduation in June—especially if the degree for Maria Leipelt Bade carries the words, "with distinction."

Spanish War Auxiliary Head Speaks

"Live for something and do good," Mrs. Lilliam Bauman, national president of the United Spanish War Veterans, auxiliary Tuesday night told Spanish war vets and their wives at a YWCA banquet honoring herself and Harry E. Williams, national commander of the USWV.

"Have behind you a monument, of virtue," Mrs. Bauman said, "that a storm never could destroy." She told members of the auxiliary that "life and love" are beautiful hosts, and that to follow this rule meant living a happier and fuller life.

Commander Williams lauded the action of the auxiliary, saying that "if it wasn't for (them), the Spanish war camps would go out of existence."

In his tour throughout the United States, Mr. Williams said, the highlight to him as been "shaking hands with the sick comrades in the hospitals."

He reported that "fine attention" is being given the Spanish war vets in the hospitals, and that when he greeted them as their national commander they were overwhelmed with gratitude.

YWCA Work Gets International Praise

The united voices of Christians from many parts of the world Tuesday night sang and spoke out the praise of the Young Women's Christian association and for its cause of world-wide unity and development of the "spirit, body and mind."

In commemoration of the April 24 World Membership celebration, YWCA members from Uruguay, Latvia, Germany, Trinidad, Australia, Hawaii and Turkey spoke, some with a newly-tried English, of the faith in humanity and the Christian good that is being carried on throughout the world by the YWCA.

Calling for a faith in mankind without resort only to technical skills, Rev. Rex Knowles, Presbyterian and Congregational student pastor, urged strongly the belief of the Pilgrims that there be a world of both "Christians and citizens."

"Too many messages from the past have become silent," Knowles said, "and it is for us today to bring forth those messages and put them to action."

It is time that the people harken back to the words of Thomas Jefferson, he said, that "All men were created equal."

It is important also, Knowles said, to remember Lincoln's words, "with malice toward none, with charity toward all," as the basis for a belief in all of mankind, and not an "intense nationalism that causes a nation to paint itself white while painting other nations black.

"We don't even help people unless those people accept our way of life," he pointed out. "Is that Christianity?

"We cannot be citizens," Knowles shouted, "when congress just sits there and does nothing about sending wheat to a desperately-needy India." A citizen never would allow that, he said.

TOGETHER IN FAITH—Joined together in world YWCA membership celebration Tuesday night were Mrs. Valija Lemanis (left) and her daughter, Eva, wearing Latvian native costume and pointing to her homeland on a globe; Joyce Wiseman, University of Nebraska student from Trinidad; Hatsuko Tani, from Hawaii, studying social welfare work at the university, and Joan Parks from Australia, instructor in physical education at the U. of N. (Star Photo.)

There are some "twitterbrains" from Nebraska, the pastor said, who shout and scream the world is coming to an end every time they see lightning and hear thunder.

These citizens, especially the one who does his shouting before congress, very definitely lack a faith in God and the principles of a united mankind, he said.

"God today looks at the world as one world, but there are people who look at the world in terms of one nation opposed to the rest."

It is important, he went on, to remember the words of God, that "What God hath joined together, let no man put asunder."

There are three factors today that make up the basis of Christianity, he said. They are purpose, humility, and consistency. "Our Pilgrim fathers had them, and we can use them as the keys of the past to unlock the problems of the future."

11 Students Are Named To Honorary

Anderson Claims 'Bigness' Needed

Eleven outstanding scholars in the University of Nebraska business administration college were named members of Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary society for business students, at ceremonies held on the campus Tuesday evening.

One faculty member, Prof. Richard M. Bourne, was also elected to membership.

New student members, all ranking scholastically in the upper 10 per cent of their class, are:

Milton Clark, Pawnee City.
Alfred Ostdiek, Lawrence.
Joan Rasmussen, Lincoln.
Robert Shively, Lincoln.
Allan Tully, Omaha.
Lamar Garon, Omaha.
John Pfann, Nebraska City.
Robert Rogers, Sioux City, Ia.
Milton Shuey, Orchard.
Keith Van Arsdol, Lincoln.
Bert H. Knapp, Table Rock.

At the annual business session, Joan Rasmussen was elected president of the fraternity to succeed William Sorensen. Alfred Ostdiek was named vice president, and Prof. J. O. Burnett was re-elected secretary-treasurear.

Prof. Forrest Blood was toastmaster. Officers of the honorary society are: William E. Sorensen, Fremont, president; Nancy Buck, Omaha, vice president; and Prof. J. O. Burnett, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Eugene N. Anderson, professor of history at the university, told the group that modern society could not exist without "bigness" in government, industry and trade unions.

Pointing out that today's culture has "institutionalized" bigness, Dr. Anderson said that this situation has developed with the machine age, and has replaced self-dependence with inter-dependence of individuals.

The material bigness has resulted in a much greater output of goods and their availability to the common man at low cost, Anderson said. It has permitted the "little man" to maintain democracy and social security through large organizations and has given him the means for creative, esthetic achievement, he concluded.

5-Year Plan For Traffic Under Study

Barton Plan 'Can't Please All,' Fenton Warns Councilmen

The city council Tuesday took under advisement the approval of a five-year traffic improvement plan drawn up for the city by George Barton, Chicago, consulting traffic engineer.

The report was presented to the council by Joe Fenton, chairman of the Lincoln traffic commission. He urged that the council take immediate steps to start three projects so the people could be shown some results of the study.

Phases of the Barton report he recommended to start are:

1. Improvement of traffic flow on 27th by prohibiting parking at the west curb between N and H and between E and Van Dorn.

South Parking

2. Improve South street traffic by prohibiting parking at either curb from the west city limits to Tenth, no parking at south curb from Tenth to 13th and 15th to 27th except where there are curb setbacks.

3. No parking at the south curb on Holdrege from 17th to 33rd and no parking at the north curb from 33rd to 48th.

The total cost of the three projects was estimated at $696, most of which would go for the purchase of the necessary signs.

Can't Please All

Fenton reminded the council that "if we're going to try to please everybody then we will get no place. If we can please just 51 percent of the people then we will get some place."

The council expressed agreement with the traffic improvement idea but wanted time to read over and study the Barton report before acting on it.

Along parking lines Mayor Victor E. Anderson received the approval of the council on his suggestion that City Attorney John Jacobson look into the possibility of a city operated parking lot on the proposed auditorium site at Fifteenth and N streets.

Doubted Legally

Doubt was expressed as to the legality of city owned and operated parking lots under present city ordinances. The lot is currently leased to Chauncey Barney for $200 a month.

Anderson told the council that it was estimated that the city could realize from $1,500 to $2,000 a month on the lot if its own parking meters were installed there.

"In all my 36 years of experience, I have never asked any senator to vote for or against a bill," Hoye said.

"My job is to promote good will, and help police the industry. I appear before retailer groups throughout the state, urging them to comply with the law and not jeopardize their license for a 20-cent sale," he said.

Hoye said he had complied with the law "in every respect."

Olson said he has regularly filed financial statements, although they have not been in detail.

He denied that one wholesaler has half of the liquor business in the state. "Three houses are doing the bulk of business," he said, adding that he didn't think the three houses control all the leading brands.

Blotcky said that two dealers control the leading brands in the state.

He said there were not any "tie-in" sales now, although there might be if the liquor supply gets short.

Hoye and Olson said they keep two rooms at the Cornhusker hotel during the legislative session.

Olson said his salary was $750 a month, Hoye said his was $500.

Buys Seven Dinners A Day

Hoye said he had bought six cases of liquor since Jan. 1, and bought an average of seven dinners a day, which included others than senators. Three cases of beer last about two weeks, he said.

"Hotels account for the major part of expense," Hoye said.

Olson said he couldn't tell how much liquor he spent for entertainment and had "no idea" on how many meals he bought.

But he said he never gave anyone "more than a bottle of liquor."

Park Meter Battle Rages Over Letter

Counter - Offensive By Mayor Hits Back At Rees Wilkinson

Mayor Victor E. Anderson Tuesday led a counter attack in the battle of the parking meters as Councilman Rees Wilkinson continued his offensive drive against the purchase of 350 Mark Time meters.

At the Tuesday city council session Wilkinson struck out against any city directors keeping information they had obtained on any issue confidential. He asserted that he had asked Director Ray Osborn for a copy of a letter which the councilman claimed Osborn said was a recommendation from a nattional watch manufacturing company in favor of the Mark Time meter. Wilkinson was denied a copy of the letter.

While the letter was asked for it was also demanded of Osborn by Wilkinson that the letter be turned over to two newspaper reporters. Osborn had already let the councilman read the letter once.

Mayor Hits Back

Also, Osborn denied that the letter was from a national watch manufacturing company as had been previously reported in the newspaper. He said it was from a watch maker who works for a national concern and was a personal recommendation only.

"I voted for the Mark Time meter," said Mayor Anderson, "because it was recommended by the director after a thorough investigation and was a low bid.

"When information is obtained from the outside under confidential terms by a director it is not right to disclose publicly that information. If we did then we would soon be unable to get such advice.

'Publicity Reasons'

"When you (Wilkinson) go to the director with two reporters to get a report for publicity reasons then I don't think you should have it."

Anderson also told Wilkinson that in regard to his stand on saving the taxpayers' money and his assertions about poor widows and slim purses that "when I wanted to save the people $95,000 on the recent gas rate increase then you voted against that savings."

Wilkinson withdrew a resolution he had introduced calling for all recommendations to be a part of the council record when it was determined that such was already the law.

The councilman succeeded in voting into the record his letter to the council on "Our Responsibilities as a City Council."

In the letter Wilkinson advocated that the council "shop" for what it buys and that "if we must deal with a meter concern that has more than one price, then lets see to it that this city gets the low price."

It has been argued that the Mark Time meter has sold for nearly half the price in other cities as Lincoln is paying for it.

If Lincoln could get a discount of $29.50 on its meters as Denver did, said Wilkinson, it would make a savings of $10,325. Denver's meters, he said, are also now being junked.

Young Claims He Is Still Commissioner

. . . To Court Today

Blaine Young Tuesday explained what his stand will be until Governor Peterson's ouster order is decided by the courts.

Young, whom the governor ordered removed as state liquor commissioner Saturday, said:

"My position is that I am still commissioner, and as such I will do any official act that I may be permitted to do.

"That will be my position until the matter is determined by the court."

Meanwhile, the Supreme court was expected to decide Wednesday whether it would take Young's case.

If the high court refuses, then the case will go to the District court of Lancaster county, Attorney General Clarence Beck said.

Pelley Says Is Not Interested Board's Election

Dr. James Pelley, associate superintendent of Lincoln public schools, Tuesday publicly disavowed that he had any interest in the forthcoming election of two board of education members.

In a statement read into the record in the closing minutes of the regular board meeting, Dr. Pelley said in part:

" . . . I thought the above facts (Pelley's resignation and the board's acceptance and his announcement of accepting a new position elsewhere) were well known by all members of this board.

"Yet, as late as yesterday, I am informed by sources which I consider reliable that your chairman, Dr. John P. Senning, in campaigning for the re-election of the incumbent members and as a means of disparaging the candidacy of Mrs. (Irma N.) Laase and Mr. (Homer L.) Wright, stated that these persons were running for the purpose of reinstating me in the Lincoln schools . . ."

Senning Denies

Dr. Senning, upon hearing the statement, vigorously denied that he had ever made such a statement.

Dr. Pelley denied any "vindictive motive" in his actions at any time.

"Rumors have been so widespread lately about my intentions," said Dr. Pelley, "that I feel that such an announcement will dispell the rumors and clear the record."

Dr. Pelley has accepted a position with Miami university at Oxford, O.

Four Paths to Peace

By J. Gordon Roberts

Better to understand the full meaning of moral law, we must not only return to religion, but also extend even further the study of its application to society.

Thus may free people hope to exercise their obligation of choice to liberate the world from the anarchy of war.

Above all, people must live happily to live at peace. The achievement of spiritual peace and inner contentment becomes the responsibility of all of us hoping to offer our children a better world.

Summarizing finally, we might conclude that at least four paths must be followed along the road to world peace:

1. Some nation or society must achieve economic stability without emasculating creative effort,
2. The cause or causes of the decline of civilization must be eliminated and conditions substituted favoring a steady ascent,
3. Population and production must be balanced, and
4. Free people, granted the right of choice, must extend moral law to include its effect upon society as a whole as well as upon the individual.

"Smart Buy's Roadmaster"

It started the very day the 1951 ROADMASTER made its first appearance—and has been building up ever since.

Folks looked at the fresh new styling—the power—the features—the fabrics—the cloud-soft cushions—and the prices—and said, "Here's the smart buy in the fine-car field."

Why don't you come and see for yourself what a sensational buy this proud beauty really is?

It's a honey to handle—a joyous thrill to ride in—and just about the handsomest thing on wheels.

It has room, and poise, and a level-going gait that comes from coil springs front and rear.

There's a triumphant thrill in the willing obedience of its Fireball power and the luxurious ease of its Dynaflow Drive, which doesn't cost you a penny extra.

There's a sweeping view fore and aft through sweepingly broad glass areas, and the new clarity of an instrument panel with greater visibility at night.

Even the brakes are new, self-cooling, with a grip that takes hold like steel fingers in a velvet glove.

Here indeed is a car that is fine in bearing, in action, and in the precision of every structural part—a ROADMASTER custom built by Buick. When will you try one as our guest?

Students To Be Leaders In Influence, Dr. Stoke Says

Over 1,200 Recognized For High Scholarship At N.U. Convocation

Because we are not all alike, there is an aristocracy of influence upon which the nation relies for guidance, Dr. Harold W. Stoke said at a University of Nebraska honors convocation Tuesday at the coliseum.

The convocation honored over 1,200 students and many student organizations for high scholarship.

Dr. Stoke, former University of Nebraska faculty member and formerly president of the University of New Hampshire and of Louisiana state university now with the National Citizens commission for the public schools, said in part:

Differentiation

"This occasion illustrates a principle which begins early in life and operates consistently and inexorably—the principle of differentiation, that all of us are not alike, in tastes, talents or energy and that these differences become of great importance to us as individuals and to our society.

"Anyone who looks at the American scene with a discriminating eye soon discovers this simple but important fact: that some people exercise a great deal more influence than do others. They do not exercise this influence because they are entitled by law to do so, or because birth or even wealth gives them such power but because of qualities of mind and character that make the rest of us willing to acknowledge their leadership and eager to follow their suggestions.

"No matter how hard we have striven to establish principles of equality in this country, equality before the law and equality of opportunity, we have never found a way to establish equality of influence.

Proper Influence

"The world is not likely ever to find the means of equalizing the influence of people in the management of its affairs. We shall always be compelled to rely upon those whose capacities and positions enable them to guide our minds and actions.

"It is among you in school, preparing yourselves to acquire and to exercise influence, that we will find our future commanding officers. As you take your places in the aristocracy of influence, we adjure you that, with the power you acquire, you will, like Cromwell, 'Let all the ends thou aimst at be by country's, thy God's and truth's.'"

Awarded special recognition at the convocation were Robert Raun of Minden, winner of the C. W Boucher senior award, for possessing the highest four-year grade average—slightly over 95 per cent — among all university students, and this group of seniors who ranked in the upper 3 per cent of their class scholastically and in the upper 10 per cent of their class for four years:

LEADERS MEET—National commander of United Spanish War Veterans, Harry E. Williams, greets on her arrival in Lincoln president of Spanish War Veterans Auxiliary, Mrs. Lillian E. Bauman. This is the seventh time both have met while making trips to visit chapters throughout all the United States. A banquet and reception in their honor was held Tuesday night at YWCA. (Star Photo.)

United Spanish War Vets, Auxiliary Honor Leaders

Members of the United Spanish War veterans and their ladies' auxiliary met Tuesday and honored with a luncheon at the YWCA both national leaders of the USWV and the auxiliary.

Seated at the head table were Harry E. Williams, national commander of the USWV, and Mrs. Williams; Mrs. Lillian E. Bauman, national auxiliary president; Dept. Comdr. James Kudrna, and Dept. President Mae Kudrna, and officers of the city and county organizations.

Mrs. Bauman spoke briefly on the activities of the auxiliary, including the work they are doing in veterans hospitals, child welfare programs, and national defense and Americanism drives.

As national president of the auxiliary, Mrs. Bauman has visited chapters in 26 states, during which time she has made appearances at 24 veterans hospitals. As part of her trip to Lincoln, Mrs. Bauman appeared in a 15-minute program.

Commander Williams, who is the only national commander to come from Oregon, accepted the welcome of some 75 veterans and their wives of the Spanish war.

The luncheon honoring the national leaders was a special occasion for Judge George A. Eberly, Lincoln.

Mr. Eberly, who still retains the "judge" as an honorary remembrance by his friends, was a justice on the Nebraska Supreme court bench for 18 years. He retired in 1943.

What made it a special occasion was that Judge Eberly, who himself had been national commander of the USWV in 1940-41, made the reception his first appearance in public after an extended illness.

The judge remembers his Spanish war days from the Texas campaign when the United States army was out to get Pancho Villa.

Thunder Of Guns In Korea

Both the headlines and news columns suggest again that great events are shaping themselves on the North Korean battlefields, this time minus the element of surprise. The long-awaited communist counter-offensive involving a great mass of partially unidentified warriors was under way. And with it was notice that many anxious hours are ahead. One of the curious notes which crept into the news was mention of forces from outer Mongolia in the communist armies.

★

There is no easy understanding of the battle now in progress. It is a most primitive struggle, waged with the most modern weapons of destruction. A young man who had seen service in the Pacific theater sat quietly talking at luncheon Tuesday. He spoke of the Asiatic attitude—contempt for the sacredness of human life, indifference to time. There is that in this struggle. It is the difference between the Occident and the Orient—the gap between East and West—the barrier between peoples where life is cheap and other peoples where life is held in high regard. This is, in part, the debate between General MacArthur and his supporters on one side—and the chiefs of staff and the administration on the other. It is a debate which can continue indefinitely, with the most logical arguments to bolster up either position. And a discussion of that character is apt to lead to complete frustration.

Only the lapse of sufficient time may provide the right answer, and even then, that verdict will be returned on the basis of what happens.

For the time being, American public opinion, hopelessly at sea, concerns itself with one thing. What are we trying to do in this Korean struggle, if actually there is any clearcut pattern to it? Obviously we are at this time fighting a defensive battle. We are not undertaking any offensive in the sense that attacking armies invariably bear the brunt of the heaviest casualties. We are contesting every mile of ground, seeking to inflict maximum destruction upon a fanatical, savage enemy, reflecting back of it the new spirit that had placed its hand over a greater portion of the Orient in the dream of an Asia for the Asiatics. We are seeking to inflict ten casualties upon an attacking aggressor for every casualty suffered by us. We are endeavoring to demonstrate to the communist world that the free peoples of the earth are determined to fight for their freedom until another part of the world, now enslaved by communism, regardless of its views upon the cheapness of life, will have had enough of it.

★

There isn't anything very complex about that, no matter how difficult it is for a western people to adjust themselves to that viewpoint. We are the young; we represent that part of the world accustomed to quick action and speedy results—we are fighting an old civilization, stoical and frequently hopeless, but now inflamed with the new spirit of world conquest.

★

It is this that makes Korea and all that Korea represents a matter of high controversy, an invitation to short tempers, the constant spur to flaring anger, to deep resentment. The role of a defensive struggle is unpopular with a people who never have been committed to that position. It is impossible to separate the present fighting from events of recent days—to look upon it in detached spirit from the great debate now going on in America. But if we look long enough, we can see not in fear but with understanding of the latent power of a giant that has been sleeping for centuries. It is the Orient, with all of its hundreds of millions now aflame.

★

There can be an honest debate upon that issue without anger or name-calling. Do we want a major struggle of global proportions involving the masses of Asia, Chinese and other Asiatics, hundreds of millions, and the vast distances of an old continent? That would be an aggressive war, carried on with every instrument of destruction on both sides, with the assurance that destruction itself would emerge the victor. Or does military wisdom, coupled with American foreign policy, dictate a struggle limited to but one part, and a very small part of a huge continent?

Thoughts of Lincoln

A little more than a year ago, we sat in the office of a distinguished American, quietly chatting with him of the days that he had spent in an early Lincoln, a community eagerly looking forward to years of usefulness, even as a young man who had selected the Nebraska capital for beginning a legal career, looked out on broad vistas.

★

It was a remarkable man, General Charles G. Dawes, who did most of the talking. Then in his eighties, modestly wearing the honors bestowed upon him far and near (Mr. Dawes was a Nobel prize winner, had been decorated for distinguished services by the governments of a number of western European nations), his thoughts that day were very much upon a city where he had started life. We wrote a series of articles dealing with Mr. Dawes' life in Lincoln in the early 'nineties, after our return from Chicago.

★

We shall never forget the tones of reverence and tenderness with which he spoke of those early Lincoln associations. They constituted a special niche in his recollections. They were good years in their alternating clouds and sunshine, their adversities and their progress, years dealing with an America which no longer exists, a young country which has become mature, and burdened as it is with the heavy responsibilities of maturity. From out of that Ohio home from whence he came, General Dawes had taken each day in stride, each month, each year, to play a big role in national and international affairs. And yet, from the action of that epochal campaign of 1896, in which he played a vital part in the nomination of the late William McKinley, on up the ladder as director of the budget in the McKinley administration, vice president, ambassador to Great Britain, creator of the Dawes Plan, and a score of other great undertakings, there was always the thought of those happy years spent in a young midwest community.

★

He spoke of the late W. J. Bryan, of their friendship, of the Woods brothers, of the late S. H. Burnham, of George Holmes, and of a score more of loyal and sustaining friendships weathering the years, and growing stronger. He had recollections of General John J. Pershing, of an idealistic America rushing ahead, pell-mell speed, to become a great nation. Mr. Dawes possessed one of the most priceless of resources—a mind that could accept in philosophical spirit the adjustments of a changing world. He had his own deeply engrained convictions of the right and wrong courses to be pursued, and America has produced no better fighting man for honest convictions than this warrior who passed away Monday night in the quiet of his study.

★

His public career is familiar to all his fellow Americans, a long list of sound achievements in which the gifted creative spirit of man asserted itself. General Dawes was no disciple of red tape or of obstruction. He believed with all his soul in getting things done, and he had a magnificent impatience with those tactics contributing to delay and to indecision. He had a capacity to cut through details that impede progress, to get to the heart of a problem, and to come up with a solution.

★

On the personal side, he was the most considerate and courteous of men, tolerant of conflicting opinion, widely travelled, widely read, retentive mind, richly endowed with experience. He had the capacity for great friendship, cheerful when others were glum, a ready quip upon his lips, a storehouse of courage and determination. Innumerable are the stories associated with this man, stories which will live as a part of the gallant tale of Americana, stories so typical of the history of the country, and illustrative of its strength and determination to create the finest type of civilization.

★

Only last week in Washington, we dropped in on Bascomb Timmons, a widely-known Washington newspaper man who had worked on a book with Mr. Dawes, and who had corresponded concerning some material which we supplied him. Mr. Timmons was out at the time. Then the word came that Mr. Dawes had passed away. Remembering those hours with him, of the inspiration he provided, there was the sense of loss of another gallant American.

'Reward of Public Service'

Nebraska Liquor Commisioner Mike Poteet well could feel Tuesday that conscientious public service must be its own reward. We think Governor Val revealed an indifference to a man honestly endeavoring to perform a good job when he replaced Mr. Poteet. The governor named another good man, honest, square in all dealings, Gus Prestegaard, no newcomer to public affairs, to the post that has been occupied by Mike Poteet.

★

It was the governor's privilege. He and Mr. Prestegaard are old friends, long and closely associated. There was this to say in connection with Mr. Poteet, however. Through these months of controversy within the ranks of the liquor commission, Commissioner Poteet seemed to sense the desires of the majority of Nebraska people in placing a rigid interpretation upon rules and regulations of long standing, constituting Nebraska liquor policy, and in his differences with his colleagues, Mr. Poteet's attitude was one which, in our judgment, exemplifies a sound, wholesome attitude towards a problem that is at all times difficult.

★

Until recently Nebraska has occupied a particularly fortunate, happy role. Its liquor law became known throughout the country as a piece of model legislation, and the reason it occupied that position was that the liquor commission created by it proceeded without delay to plug every possible loophole contributing to loose administration. Commissioner Poteet wanted to follow in the path of a pattern that had been set, vigorously opposed opening up any new channels which might have invited lax enforcement or greater latitude in the granting of licenses. For that fine service, meeting with general approval, Mr. Poteet richly deserved reappointment. This can be said without detracting in the slightest from the sterling qualities possessed by Gus Prestegaard. Mr. Poteet merited a pat on the back in the form of reappoinment to the job he now holds, encouragement for what he was attempting to do, approval of the stand that he took when men less courageous would have followed the easy, non-controversial path.

★

We regret that Governor Peterson took another view of it, a view which the governor undoubtedly can readily justify, but which leads to the conclusion that no matter how hard a man may try to do his duty as he sees it, his services may go unrecognized.

One Way Out

When two factions in the philosophy department at Vassar college couldn't agree on whether to emphasize Spencer or Plato, they tried to settle the dispute with an exchange of punches. All four professors involved were fired. How's that for employing a philosophical approach to problems?

TRUMAN-MacARTHUR WAKE ISLAND TALK WAS NOT A SECRET

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—A highlight of the current Truman-MacArthur controversy is the New York Times story summarizing the conversations between the two men at Wake island.

Because the New York Times story had the earmarks of being leaked out by the White House, some MacArthur proponents have challenged it, while MacArthur states that no records were made of the conversations on Wake island.

In view of this controversy, the Washington Merry-Go-Round's account of the Wake island conference, published on Jan. 23, some months prior to the Times' April 21 account, may be significant. For the president can hardly be accused of any partiality toward this writer except in his choice of cuss words.

Writing at that time—three months before the Truman-MacArthur controversy—I reported that:

1—MacArthur was so sure of victory he promised General Bradley that he would transfer one full division to Europe.

2—MacArthur assured the president the Chinese would not intervene.

3—MacArthur expected to get his troops back to the United States by Christmas.

4—Because of the certainty of victory, much of the conference was devoted to plans for reconstructing Korea.

5—Highlight of the Wake island meeting was the brilliant conversation of one man. MacArthur completely dominated the conversation.

☆ ☆ ☆

Because the Wake island conference now appears to be playing such an important part in the Truman-MacArthur controversy, the salient portions of my Jan. 23 Wake island column follow:

The president of the United States flew halfway round the world to confer with General MacArthur, yet aside from a few conversational pleasantries reported by accompanying newsmen, nothing has been published regarding what happened on this mid-Pacific island.

The direct talks between MacArthur and President Truman took place with no one else present; no stenographic notes were taken. It is next to impossible, therefore, to report accurately what happened. Furthermore, the stenographic notes made of the more extended conversations between Truman, MacArthur, General Bradley, and the other military men are still so secret that each copy is numbered.

However, I believe it is important that the American people know what took place at Wake island; so herewith I shall report some of the conversations recorded in these notes.

Only one clue was given in the more extended conversation as to what Truman and MacArthur talked about in their private meeting. This was when someone asked the president about Formosa, and he cut further discussion short with the curt reply:

"General MacArthur and I have discussed Formosa already and we are in complete agreement on the subject."

The trend of discussion in the rest of the conference was that a military victory was already in the bag. Almost more time was given to a discussion of Korean rehabilitation, therefore, than to military strategy. When it came to the latter, General MacArthur dominated the conversation.

"The North Koreans," he explained, "have about 15,000 guerrillas left in the south, but the winter will take care of most of them. The others are a beaten force. They are only fighting to save face. It goes against the grain to have to destroy them."

☆ ☆ ☆

MacArthur assured Truman that he could "finish the job in North Korea" in a short time. According to the stenographic notes he said:

"I hope to be able to have the 8th army back in Japan by Christmas. I may be able to send a convoy into Pyongyang immediately."

At this point, President Truman asked: "What about Chinese intervention?"

MacArthur's reply was: "They could have intervened earlier when it would have been decisive, but that time has passed. We are no longer fearful of their intervention. Although there are several hundred thousand along the Yalu river, it is not likely that they could cause us much trouble."

He also implied that he could "take care" of the Chinese, even if they decided to cross the Yalu river.

At the same time MacArthur described his plans for completing the conquest of Korea, he also argued against keeping American troops in Korea.

Obviously, this raised the question of why march across the frozen North Korean wastes to the Yalu river if the plan was to march right back again in time to return the Eighth army to Japan by Christmas. However, no one at the Wake island conference seemed to challenge MacArthur regarding this risky move.

☆ ☆ ☆

At one point, General Bradley asked whether MacArthur could make any troops available for Europe in the next few months.

MacArthur replied: "Yes, I think a division can be made available early in 1951."

Highlight of the Wake island meeting was the brilliant exposition of one man. MacArthur completely dominated the conversation, and virtually no effort was made to challenge his opinions.

Perhaps also this was the most tragic part of the conference.

LOSS OF IRANIAN OIL WOULD MEAN GAS RATIONING IN U. S.

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON. — The world just simply refuses to stand still while we carry on our own civil war here at home. We may decline to take notice of what is happening while we prosecute our own quarrels. But somehow, sooner or later, events have a way of hitting us smack in the face.

Marquis Childs

All the shouting and confusion in a distant part of the world called "Iran" may seem to have next to nothing to do with what goes on on main street and Fifth avenue. But the developing breakdown over Iran's oil wealth and who is to exploit it has already put up to top policy makers here a grave problem.

The oil from Iran is absolutely essential to keep west Europe's industry going. Already Iranian strikes and riots have cut about 500,000 barrels a day from total shipments to Europe. The western European powers that are part of the North Atlantic pact have put an informal request up to the United States to help them obtain this amount elsewhere.

In the present boom, however, with huge expenditures for rearmament about to begin, petroleum products are already tight in the United States. In order to find the 500,000 barrels, there will have to be a pooling agreement of available resources outside the trouble zone.

This may be possible, since the amount measured against total world production is comparatively small. But if the deterioration in Iran continues and it becomes necessary to try to find a million and a half or two million barrels a day for Europe, then the squeeze will really be on.

To supply the amount necessary to keep Europe's industry going—with Iran out of the picture—would mean the strictest kind of gas rationing for all civilian use throughout Europe. And it would also mean some form of gas rationing for this country.

Even without any demand from Europe precipitated by the collapse in Iran, there is at least a possibility of gas rationing at home before another 12 months have passed. The reason is simple—steel. The rate of drilling for new wells must be not merely be sustained but increased as the rate of use of petroleum goes up. And new wells cannot be drilled without the necessary steel pipe.

This means allocations from the National Production Authority out of the tight supply. Secretary of Interior Oscar Chapman, in charge of the defense petroleum drive, is working hard to try to insure that enough steel will be available for this vital purpose. But dozens of other claimants are urging on the National Production Authority demands that they believe to be just as urgent.

It is so obvious that the events passing across the screen of history are directly related to us here no matter how distant they may seem. Iran is a striking example. India is another.

According to news dispatches, the famine in Bihar province has already gone so far that an ominous development, familiar from past experience, is being noted. Starving farm workers and their families have begun to drift away in numbers from the land. Taking to the roads, they move onto the cities, spreading disease, disorder and anarchy.

Nearly four months have passed since the request of the Indian government for 2,000,000 tons of grain on "special and easy terms." As long ago as last October, President Truman was given an urgent personal warning of the need to prepare to meet the threat of famine arising in considerable part out of drouth, floods and earthquakes. Action seems nearer now but it is still likely to be months before the essential grain is loaded on ships to be taken from the mothball fleet.

The relationship here between American action—or inaction—and the spread of breakdown and the rise of communism in Asia needs no pointing up. But as in Iran, this country has a direct stake in stability. Last year 34 per cent of the manganese brought into the United States came from India, which was our largest foreign supplier. We get 90 percent of this mineral, vital as a kind of cement in each ton of steel, from abroad.

Breakdown in India could quickly affect the supply of an indispensable commodity. This country cannot live alone and like it, without friends, without allies, without sources of vital materials we do not have.

Whether a relatively objective investigation of the MacArthur controversy is possible, one may doubt. Whether anyone on either side will be convinced is also doubtful. But it is certain that if American attention and effort are distracted by this quarrel, the sweep of world change will carry away America's last opportunity for leadership in peace or war.

Garden Glances With The Moon

By CECILE PARRISH SWINGLE

"Storm on the rain-swept islands
Where the young winds are at play,
And turbulence in the valley
Where the river dashes spray;
But here where the seed is keeping
Her tryst with sun and rain,
We have found peace in a garden
Where God is walking again."
—Carlotta Espielong

It is third lunar quarter and this morning the moon is in the fiery and barren sign, Sagittarius. It does not, however, remain in the barren sign, Sagitarius, all day but moves into the earthy and semi-fruitful sign, Capricorn, at 20 minutes after 3:00 p.m. And then is the time to sow seeds of beets, carrots, radishes, onions and other early vegetables that produce their yield in the soil. Also, plant potatoes and onion sets this afternoon after 3:20. And tomorrow anytime that pleases you and until Friday afternoon at 5:33 when the moon will move out of the earthy, semi-fruitful sign, Capricorn, into the airy and barren sign, Aquarius.

Mrs. Swingle

Did you get that tree planted last week, or a new shrub or two you have long wanted? Or roses? They do best when set out early, remember? And follow your nurseryman's instructions on planting, hilling up, etc. Have you a lilac or two in your lawn or garden? You haven't? What are you waiting for? Lincoln is the "Lilac City," remember? Buy French budded lilacs which will have huge blooms beginning next year. Buy them by name and remember their names. There will be pure white, pink, lilac, mauve, red and purple from which to choose, and all of them very desirable and decorative in one's lawn or garden. The blooms of French budded lilacs last well when cut and brought into the house, while Persian lilacs do not, although the Persian lilac, with its small foliage and beautiful, fragrant blooms, is indispensable as a hedge windbreak or lane.

Fourth lunar quarter will begin early Sunday morning. And at 10:15 p.m., the waning moon will enter the watery and fruitful sign, Pisces. Monday and Tuesday of next week, get on with your planting of those things that produce their yields in the soil. Even though it be fourth quarter, take heart, and transplant perennals, shrubs and trees, during the two days the moon is in the fruitful sign, Pisces. Pisces is the sign of the feet and roots are the feet of all plants. Plants, shrubs and trees set out in this sign are said to start new root systems quicker than in any other sign. And unless plants have good root systems, they do not thrive or long survive, do they?

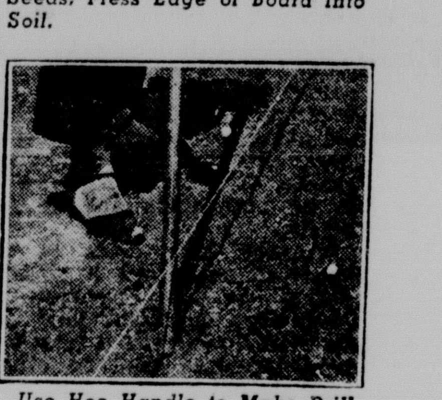
To the very few gardeners who may be puzzled when he reads on the seed packet, "sow in a drill," and "sow at a depth equal to four times the diameter of the seed," let me say that "drill" means a shallow trench and precise measurement is impossible with small seed. The main point in sowing seed is to have a care that you do not bury them so they fail to come up. This may be avoided by one of three methods of drill-making illustrated in our column today. For larger seeds, use the edge of your hoe blade, as in the illustration, pressing lightly for an inch-deep drill and more heavily for deeper drills. Keep your drills straight by using a board or a line as a guide. Any stout cord stretched between two stakes will serve you well.

In sandy loam, one plants a little deeper than in heavy soil. And in hot weather, seeds are planted deeper than in our moist spring weather. But why speak of summer when spring has scarcely begun? I did, however, find our first violet bloom Monday—a "Confederate violet" at the south of our garage in full sun, a huge blue-gray bloom.

So until next week—

Stretch Line Tight and Keep It Straight.

For Shallow Drill for Tiny Seeds, Press Edge of Board Into Soil.



Use Hoe Handle to Make Drill for Medium Sized Seeds.

Puzzled about "sowing in a drill?" Here's how . . .

NEW DOG FOR LYNN

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of the Lincoln Star: I would like to take this opportunity to express our thanks to you for printing the story about Lynn and her dog. We had several calls concerning dogs which these interested parties thought might fit the situation and it was most gratifying to know that some folks still care about things of this nature.

As a result of your story, we found another red cocker puppy who is four months old, and though he isn't just the same as "Rusty," he has considerably eased Lynn's heartache and I am sure she will soon come to love him very much, too.

Our thanks again for printing the story.

MRS. E. A. JIRACEK.

NEED FOR FRIENDS

Curtis, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We should be able now to pass a reasoned judgment over the Truman-MacArthur controversy. I am one who wanted MacArthur for president and did not vote for Truman; yet in this case, it appears that Truman is right and MacArthur, a little too hasty. MacArthur's plan to bomb China and Manchuria would certainly bring in Russia and we would find ourselves in a war in Asia without powerful friends. We could not hope to win in such a case and we might well lose what we now have. The president was acting in the very best interest of the nation in trying to limit hostilities and seek a solution.

War is at our gates and we should be more united. President Truman and Secretary Acheson are not communists. The same generals would direct military operations from the Pentagon if Dewey were president. Creating the present hysteria is the most deplorable thing the republicans have ever done. Perhaps the showdown with Russia cannot be averted. It may be here now, but in that case we want all the friends we can have.

C. R. HERRICK.

NEED FOR TRUTH

Elwood, Neb.

To the editor of the Lincoln Star: What is going to happen to this country and the world in general, if this corruption is not dealt with except by words? When we look at the present episode between Truman and MacArthur, it looks as if we were on the verge of a great political, religious, and commercial earthquake that will shake the U.S. to its very foundations and the world in general. What we need is the truth from Christ's spirit, spoken of before He left this earth.

"PUT UP OR SHUT UP"

Milford, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: How often we abuse our freedoms, and none so much as freedom of speech! As long as I live, I shall feel that a great injustice has been done a fine soldier and a grand man. I, like the general, am in the twilight of life, and if they wish to let other nations influence the policies of the U.S.A., I will not be here to live under another flag. It is amazing how many men in high offices—democrats and republicans alike—are poor losers, and will refuse to play ball with the winner. The bickering and accusing that results makes everyone along the line uneasy and creates that feeling of distrust and insecurity. If those in Washington would "put up or shut up," this would still be a wonderful place in which to live and bring up one's children.

MRS. E. B. BLACKETER

A HOUSE DIVIDED

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of the Lincoln Star: Do you remember the saying, "It Can't Happen Here!"?

Well, it is happening here. We are becoming a divided people, just what our enemies want. We needn't fear Russia at this time because we are fighting her battles for her. We are our own greatest enemies!

The republicans and democrats in Washington are thinking too much of party power at the sacrifice of the welfare of the nation. The MacArthur affair is a disgraceful piece of partisan politics. If MacArthur were half the soldier he pretends to be and has lived up to his own standards of discipline, he would have admitted that his ouster was legal and justified according to the "Articles of War." In fact, as per the "Articles," the general should have been court-martialed for disobedience of orders in time of war. Yet the people were so misled by republican propaganda, that they didn't stop to analyze the entire situation.

In these critical times, let us forget that we are republicans or democrats. Let us forget that we are white, black, yellow, Protestant, Catholic or Jew. Let us, instead, remember that we live in the greatest nation in the world. Let us also remember those things that have made our nation great.

What to do about all this? Well, write to your congresesmen and speak your mind. After all, they are your servants and not your masters.

FLOYD E. BRACKEN.

Dirt Farming Choice Post For Raun, Top Ag Student

"Hitting the dirst," mean a variety of things to a number of people, but for Robert Raun, Minden, University of Nebraska top scholarship student in agriculture, it means a profession which he thinks of as a "well-considered choice."

ROBERT RAUN

Rob, as he's known to university students, prefers being a "dirt farmer" to any other job. His scholarship backs him up on his preference.

He is proud possessor of a four-year scholarship average of slightly more than 95 per cent, or in university vernacular an 8.6 average, in the college of agriculture.

For his record of highest scholarship in his class, Rob was given the coveted C. W. Boucher award at the university's honors convocation Tuesday evening.

War Veteran

Rob entered the university in 1945. Shortly afterward he enlisted in the military service. Two years later he was discharged as a first lieutenant in the air force reserve and resumed his university career.

Since then he has become not only a university top scholar but also a "first citizens." Rob carraies on an extensive program of student activities.

The list includes president of the student council, governing body for student affairs; president of Innocents society, senior men's honorary group; president of Block and Bridle club, animal husbandry; former president of the agriculture college executive board, student governing body on that campus; former president of Alpha Gamma Rho, and a member of Alpha Zeta, honorary society for agricultural students.

All this seems to come naturally for Rob. He was a top student in high school, and in 1945 was state secretary of the Future Farmers of America. He was in 4-H work for seven years.

West Point Nominee

His loyalty to "dirt farming" has withstood some strong temptations. He was nominated to attend the United State military academy at West Point. He seriously considered a career in professional agriculture. And at another time engineering looked good. But the farm kept calling.

Rob, 23, figures his army experience helped mature his judgment and shake the "grain from the chaff."

"I look at it this way," says Rob. "The farm is a good living. It's not an isolated existence as it once war. We've got good land out in Kearney county and I figure the land will always be a sort of balance wheel in the life of our state. I want to be a good farmer, not only in producing food but in helping myself and other farmers enjoy better living."

Rob plans to be married in June to Eileen Derieg of Hastings . He will help out on his father's farm with his older brother, Ned, who also was a top university scholar. His sister, Joan, is a junior in home economics, a scholar, and prominent in school activities. The "baby" of the family, Arthur, will begin at the university next fall.

Rob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Raun, who live in Mindfen. When you mention the name Raun, Rob begins to chuckle.

When Grandfather Peter Hans Hansen came to the United States from Denmark and settled near Minden, there were so many Hansens he was afraid his mail would get mixed up. So he took the name Raun, after that of a Copenhagen hotel, a name which has become almost as familiar as an every-day word at the University of Nebraska.

U.S. Mission To Formosa May Be Expanded

Gen. Chase Joins Chiang About May 1

Weapons And Munitions Already Delivered To Island Nationalists

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Deputy Defense Secretary Lovett disclosed Monday that the U. S. military mission to Formosa may exceed 600 officers and men, and indicated there has been a big buildup of armed strength in the Chinese nationalist stronghold.

But Lovett insisted that he did not know whether the nationalists are being supplied with amphibious equipment they would require for an invasion of the communist-held Chinese mainland.

The defense official also said he did not know whether there is a plan to withdraw the U. S. Seventh fleet from its present mission of "neutralizing" Formosa.

Lovett told a news conference that 48 officers and 68 enlisted technicians are being sent to Formosa immediately to train the nationalist army in use of modern weapons and equipment, and that the mission later may be increased by 400 or 500 officers and men.

Maj. Gen. William Curtis Chase, who commanded a division under Gen. MacArthur in World war II, has been named chief of the mission, which is expected to reach Formosa about May 1.

MacArthur has warned that Formosa must under no circumstances be allowed to fall to the communists and has urged U. S. help in enabling Chiang Kai-shek to hurl his estimated 800,000 troops against the Chinese reds.

Lovett said that a "substantial" quantity of munitions, weapons and other war material has been delivered to Formosa under a program put into effect some time ago.

The deputy defense chief added that a decision was made last fall to send the military mission to the island when sufficient equipment had arrived to make the presence of U. S. instructors and supervisors necessary.

Delay Naming State Liquor Law Officer

Gov. Val Peterson Tuesday said he was not going to approve a chief law enforcement officer for the state liquor commission until after the new commission was organized.

The governor Tuesday named two new members to the commission, Gus Prestegaard, Lincoln and G. H. Rydman, Omaha.

Rydman won't take office until June 1.

The liquor commission by a two to one vote some time ago named Columbus Police Chief Edward Nickolite to the post.

'Complete Support'

The appointment, however, was awaiting the governor's approval.

Gov. Peterson said he anticipated that the election of the officer would be by unanimous vote.

Whoever takes the job, the governor said, should have the unanimous selection and "complete support" of the commission.

The governor said he meant no reflection on Nickolite.

Likes Director

Gov. Peterson also came out for at least one phase of Sen. Hugh Carson's proposal to rearrange the liquor control set-up in Nebraska.

The governor said he liked the idea of the governor having full power to appoint and remove the director.

Carson's proposal calls for a full time liquor director with a three-member part time board of review.

He has not as yet had the proposal submitted to the legislature.

WILLIAM C. HARMON

McCOOK—Funeral services for William C. Harmon, 71, who died at his home Monday, were held Friday. He came to McCook as a small child with his parents from Lincoln. Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Lynn Wilcox, McCook, Mrs. John Fitzsimmons, Cairo, and Mrs. Melvin Seaton, Santa Fe, N.M., and two sons, Kenneth, Denver, and Ronald, Washington.

CARL STEEN

CURTIS—Funeral services for Carl Steen, 82, resident of this vicinity for 42 years, were held Monday. He died Saturday, April 14, following a brief illness. He was a native of Denmark.

Council Forced Delay $10 Raise To City Workers

The planned $10 monthly blanket pay raise for city employes failed to materialize at Tuesday's council meeting due to the absence of one council member.

The council had intended to declare an emergency by resolution and then authorize the borrowing from a bank of about $18,000 to meet the raise up to the beginning of the new fiscal year Sept. 1.

The action, however, requires the unanimous approval of the council so the absence of Councilman Art Weaver caused a change in plans. The council called a special meeting for 11:30 Thursday morning to grant the raise.

The council also scheduled a meeting of the city's power committee for 10 a.m. Thursday to consider the drafting of a new power contract between the city and the Nebraska Public Power system.

NEBRASKA DEATHS

MRS. JENNIE JEFFERS

AURORA — Mrs. Jennie Jeffers, 80, former York school teacher, died Monday. She had resided in Aurora for about 50 years. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Sam Keller, Aurora, and Mrs. E. J. Clark, Oklahoma City, Okla.

State Fair's Parking To Get Surface

Crushed Rock Being Rolled Onto Grounds

Rain or shine it will be as near "fair" days as it is possible at the 1951 Nebraska state fair, Edwin Schultz, state fair board secretary, said Wednesday.

Workmen have been busy at the agricultural exposition grounds rolling 1,600 tons of crushed rock on roads in the parking area. The stabilized base will also be oiled before the fair opens to keep dust at a minimum.

Before rocking the roads, 2,400 lineal feet of concrete sewer pipe, ranging in size from 15 to 24 inches, was installed with catch basins to provide immediate drainage for the roads. Low places in the parking area are being filled and will be covered with rock later, Schultz explained.

The surfacing of the parking area cannot be completed this year, he said, but is part of the future plans which includes paving of about 20 blocks in the main section of the grouds. If conditions permit, this improvement will be included in the 1952 improvement program, he added.

Because of federal regulations, it was pointed out, no new construction will be undertaken this year. Necessary repairs and painting of buildings will, however, be made.

No Slash In State's May Draft Quota

State Selective Service Director Guy N. Henninger Tuesday said Nebraska's May draft quota of 533 men will stand.

He said national selective service headquarters had informed him of this, adding that a Nebraska cut was throught probable in view of the fact that the national May call had been slashed from 60,000 to 40,000.

Henninger speculated that the point may have been reached where adjustments are being made in states where large numbers of national guardsmen have been called.

He said that probably Nebraska's recalled national guard units have not been on active duty long enough to be included in the adjustments.

Brannan Defends Prices Paid U.S. Farmers

Below-Parity Price Ceiling Move Is Hit

Secretary Assumed To Have Backing Of President Truman

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary of Agriculture Brannan went on record Tuesday against any move to push price ceilings on farm products below parity levels.

His stand, before the house agriculture committee, was taken in informed quarters as a strong indication that the parity principle will be protected in any legislation the administration proposes to extend the defense production act, which expires June 30.

Parity is a traditional formula by which the prices of farm products are adjusted to the changing cost of things the farmer has to buy.

Observers here reasoned that Brannan would not commit himself on the basic question of parity unless he was convinced that President Truman intends to protect parity. Some advocates of sterner stabilization policies have proposed that price ceilings be established below parity in certain cases.

Brannan appeared before the committee to deny assertions that farm prices are a major factor in inflation.

"Rather than being overpaid, farmers are earning less for their labor, less for their investment and less for their management ability than are other sections of the economy," he said.

Rep. Harvey (R-Ind) asked Brannan whether he saw any present need for direct farm subsidies like those paid in World war II.

Brannan said he did not. He added, however: "I would not want to rule out a subsidy as one of the tools that might have to be used in certain circumstances."

Prestegard, Rydman On Liquor Board

Lincoln And Omaha Men Picked Succeed Poteet And Young

Gov. Val. Peterson Tuesday threw his anticipated liquor commission bombshell, naming Gus Prestegaard, Lincoln, and G. H. Rydman, Omaha, to the commission.

Prestegaard was appointed to a full six-year term to succeed Marcus Poteet, Lincoln, whose term expires May 25.

Rydman will complete the unexpired term of Blaine Young, Omaha, who was ordered out of office Saturday by the governor although Young maintains he is still commissioner.

Young's term runs until May 25, 1953.

Rydman, 64, is retiring May 31 as Swift and company plant superintendent after more than 48 years with the company. He will take office June 1.

Prestegaard, 71, is a prominent Lincoln business man and served on the board of control from Jan. 19, 1947, to July, 1947, at the request of the governor.

Gov. Peterson said he announced the appointments with a "great deal of personal satisfaction and pride."

Public Service

The appointees, he added, were not attracted by the $4,000 a year salary—which he termed "disgracefully low"—but are accepting as a "matter of public service."

The governor said he hoped the commission could operate on a two-man basis until June 1. He said that should a situation develop that would require a three-man commission immediately, he would "try and find someone in the building to appoint for 30 days."

He said Young was "out of office" as far as he was concerned, adding later that he assumed that the supreme court would act on Young's ouster before June 1.

The governor would not tell why he was not re-appointing Poteet other than say:

"I'm making an appointment for a six-year term."

Young was appointed Sept. 7, 1946, by former Governor Griswold to fill the unexpired term of Jackson Chase and later reappointed by Peterson.

Prestegaard was a member of the Lincoln city council from 1945 to 1947 and has been mentioned several times as a possibility for Lincoln mayor.

He is widely known over the state in business circles and has been extremely active in civic work here.

He is a member among other organizations of the National Wholesale Luberman's association, American Scandinavian federation, of Scottish Rite, Shrine, Rotary club, University club, Broadview club, and past president of the Lincoln Goodwill Industries.

Senator Ray Babcock, Sidney, chairman of the legislature's liquor-lobby investigating committee, praised the governor's selection of Prestegaard, adding that he did not know Rydman.

Senator Charles Tvrdik, Omaha, dean of the legislature in point of service, applauded the selection of Rydman, saying that he only slightly knew Prestegaard.

Liquor Control Commission Chairman Marcus L. Poteet Tuesday had "no comment at this time" on Gov. Val Peterson's appointment of Gus Prestegaard to succeed him.

Forces Change in Plans

OMAHA, (AP). The "unsolicited" appointment of Gustaf H. Rydman of Omaha to the state liquor commission will force a change in his plans, Rydman said.

But he termed the appointment an "honor as well as my duty."

Rydman is retiring May 5 as superintendent of the Swift and company plant here. He and Mrs. Rydman had planned to take a long motor trip, but now they are changing their plans for a shorter one. Between May 5 and June 1, when he takes over his new post, Rydman and his wife will pay a visit to Pasadena, Calif., where they were married 40 years ago.

The veteran packing house executive said he "very much appreciated the confidence Governor Peterson has placed in me."

What Other Gasoline Can Match this Proof?

Official AAA Records of the 1951 Mobilgas Economy Run Show that 32 Different Makes and Models of American Stock Cars Averaged 23.923 Miles Per Gallon!

ON March 6th and 7th, thirty-two non-professional drivers participated in the tough Los Angeles-to-Grand Canyon Mobilgas Economy Run.

In these two days they subjected America's latest-model cars to all altitude ranges, weather and driving conditions the average motorist experiences in a full year.

The contestants used either Mobilgas or Mobilgas Special—stopped regularly at Mobilgas dealers for service check-ups—obeyed all traffic rules.

The result: The amazing average of 23.923 miles per gallon!

Here's proof beyond question that you can get greater mileage from your own car, if you will: —use one of America's favorite gasolines—Mobilgas or Mobilgas Special, keep your car in shape with regular Mobil-Care, drive carefully.

(Special to The Star)

MITCHELL, Neb. — An auto crash near Mitchell has claimed the lives of four persons and injured two others. The accident occurred about midnight Monday when a car carrying seven passengers plunged into a drainage ditch one-half mile from Mitchell.

The dead were tentatively identified as:

Mrs. Satero Castillo, about 20, Lyman.

Lupe Urdielez, Morrill.

Urdielez was believed to be the driver of the car investigating officers said. Satero Castillo, 20, was hospitalized at Scottsbluff along with Arthur Mendez, 24, but neither was considered in dangerous condition. The seventh passenger, Emilia Mendez, walked away from the accident scene.

Deputy County Attorney Millard Cluck said the car left the highway east of the bridge over the drainage ditch, traveled 200 feet and went into the drainage ditch between a tree and the outside of the bridge railing and overturned. The vehicle was half submerged in water, Cluck added. Those injured attempted to pull the others from the car, and immediately sought help.

The group had been to Scottsbluff to see a relative, recently drafted, off on a train. The were en route home at the time of the accident.

New Oil Producing Area Possible

Completion Of Johnson Well Nears

... Northeast Of Sidney

SIDNEY, Neb.—(AP)—The Ohio Oil Co. is completing its Johnson No. 1 well for oil production from the third Dakota bench and, with this completion, Ohio will be opening up a new producing area in Cheyenne county.

The Johnson is the only well drilled so far in the two year exploration history of the county which has yielded oil from all three of the Dakota sands. Ohio's decision to perforate the third sand means that the company can always plug back and test for production from the upper two sands if the third does not meet expectations.

The full potentiality of the well won't be known until it is placed on a pumping schedule.

The Johnson is located five miles north and four east of Sidney.

'Mis-run' Reported

Ohio's newest drilling venture, the Elsasser B-1, had reached the drill stem stage but the company reported a "mis-run" on its first attempt at a test. Coring started at 4,673 feet and shale was encountered at 4,683. Additional coring reached the top of the first sand at 4,685. The Elsasser is in the Huntsman field.

Also in the Huntsman field, Ohio has perforated its Ladegard No. 2 at 4,682 to 6,692 feet and was swabbing Monday.

In the east Gurley Field the Miller No. 2 is waiting on cement. A substantial oil recovery was obtained in the first Dakota sand and the company plans to squeeze the perforate in that zone to attempt completion for commercial production.

Elsewhere in the county, the State No. 1 in the northwest part of the county was being slowed down by mechanical troubles. This well is below five thousand feet and hasn't turned up any encouraging showings.

Sinclair Oil Co's Gildersleeve No. 1 wildcat in the northeastern corner of Cheyenne county was at tota depth of 4,787 feet Monday with no showings. The hole had been carried into what Sinclair calls the Dakota series, which is equivalent to Ohio's Dakota benches. An electric log was being run Monday.

Dwight Soldier Gets DSC For Amazing Korean Feat

(Special to The Star.)

DWIGHT, Neb.—A Dwight farm mother Wednesday is far more worried about her soldier-son's wounds than proud of his winning the distinguished service cross for heroism in Korea.

SGT. ERNEST R. KOUMA

Mrs. Joseph Kouma said her son, M/Sgt. Ernest R. Kouma, wrote that he was in a hospital in Japan being treated for a knee wound.

Sgt. Kouma, a tank commander, was given the high military award for holding off Chinese hordes for over nine hours near the Naktong river the night of Aug. 31-Sept. 1.

Killed 250 Of Enemy

The army estimated he killed 250 enemy soldiers and wiped out three machine gun nests. His tank—left alone—was responsible for holding the enemy back while secondary defense positions were established.

His mother said she is, naturally, proud but "only if he gets well." He has twice been operated for a knee injury received when his tank hit a land mine.

In the Naktong action that won him the DSC, Sgt. Kouma—a veteran of European combat in World war II—was also wounded in the shoulder and foot.

A brother, Anton, 29, is in the marine corps in Korea, Mrs. Kouma said.

The army citation gave this picture of the Naktong battle:

Sgt. Kouma's tank, another tank and two armored vehicles were supporting infantry units when an estimated 500 enemy troops crossed the Naktong about 10 p.m. Aug. 31, and launched a "fanatical" attack.

The armed units were ordered to remain in position and delay the enemy until the ground elements could establish secondary positions.

The two armored vehicles were overrun and the other tank abandoned because of mechanical failure. "Suddenly," the army said, "Sgt. Kouma discovered that his tank was the only remaining obtacle in the path of the aggresive enemy attack.

"Standing steadfastly and fiercely, he gave fire orders to his crew and remained in position throughout the night fighting off repeated attack of enemy troops.

"During one assault and when the enemy surrounded his tank, he left the protective cover of his armored tank turret and, while entirely exposed, manned the .50 caliber machine gun mounted on the rear of the tank and delivered point-blank fire into the fanatical enemy."

"When his .50 caliber ammunition was expended, he began firing his .45 caliber pistol and throwing hand grenades in order to keep the determined foe from reaching his tank."

After over nine hours of constant fighting he withdrew his tank to friendly lines at 7:30 a. m., Sept. 1.

Even during the withdrawal through eight miles of enemy territory, Sgt. Koma continued to fight, exhausting his ammunition in wiping out machine-gun positions.

The Koumas have six other sons—Anton, 29, in the marines in Korea; Jim, 26, in the navy; Alton, farming near Dwight; Emil, 23, Ed, 19, and Raymond, 17, at home—and daughters, Mrs. Agnes Kunasek, Bee and Gladys, at home.

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

© 1951 by John F. Dille Co.

Use these Powers routines to pick up the pieces of a neglected figure! They'll bring back youthful lines.

A spreading abdomen destroys figure symmetry. It shouts "middle age," which is just another way of saying that its owner is going to pieces. The well-disciplined and properly cared for figure never speaks of its years. Grace and beauty are all that it suggests to the beholder.

I've known many women who have raised families, pursued a successful career and retained their attractive figures in magnificent fashion. This alone is proof enough that there is really no excuse for allowing yourself to grow out of the shape which nature intended for you.

Neglect, the Culprit

Any figure deterioration, especially a too-rounded abdomen, is the result of neglect. When you fail to wear a supporting foundation, when you fail to keep a tight rein on your abdominal muscles, and when you lapse into a routine of comfort and leisure, ignoring the importance of sensible exercise routine, maturity starts showing itself in its least attractive fashion.

You can regain any lost flat lines across the abdomen, if you start following this corrective routine at once. First check your weight. If it has increased even a few pounds above normal, start cutting your calories immediately.

However, only exercise will strengthen the muscles and firm the flesh. If you have not been exercising for some time, start with our easy "toner-upper." Keep at it for several days before you take on the more difficult, "firmer-upper." A too-strenuous beginning does more harm than good.

Abdomen Flatteners

Toner-upper: Lie flat on your back on the floor and bend both knees so that your feet rest on the floor. Pull your abdominal muscles in hard until you can make the small of your back touch the floor. Holding this position, take five deep breaths. Relax and repeat five times. Increase gradually to 25 times.

Firmer-upper: Lie flat on your back with legs raised straight up. Very, very slowly lower both until you feel the small of your back begin to arch. Then, immediately return your legs to starting position and repeat. Three times are enough at the beginning. Increase daily until you can do the exercise 15 times in succession.

You will be well repaid in the youthful appearance that you regain!

MR. AND MRS. ROY THELANDER

Early April Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Ruby Arlene Hock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hock, to Roy D. Thelander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Thelander, was solemnized Saturday evening, April 7, at Emmanuel Reformed church. Before an altar lighted by white candles burning in seven-branch candelabra, the Rev. J. H. Wacker read the lines of the 8 o'clock ceremony.

Mrs. Adam Brehm, organist, played the wedding music and also accompanied Miss Mary Ann Schleiger who sang "As The Dawn," "O Perfect Love," and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Brehm also presented a prelude of organ music including "Liebestraum," "Clair de Lune," "Panis Angelicus," and "Ich Liebe Dich," as the three hundred fifty guests assembled.

Attending her sister as maid of honor and only attendant was Miss Amy Hock, who wore a floor length gown of hyacinth blue silk moire. A wide collar of the moire accented the fitted bodice, and the full skirt was caught in a bustle bow. Her headdress was of matching moire trimmed with seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias.

Given in marriage by her brother, Fred Hock, jr., the bride wore a period gown of white bridal satin. The long fitted sleeves ended in points over the hands, and the basqued bodice was outlined by a heartshaped yoke. The gently flaring skirt tapered into a cathedral train, and her illusion veil was held by a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible ornamented with a white orchid and satin ribbons.

Serving Mr. Thelander as best man was Charles H. Boyer of Roca, and the ushers were Martin Nissen of Raymond, Leroy Sterkel of Johnstown, Colo., and George Hock, brother of the bride, and Harold Huenink, both of Lincoln.

A reception was held at Welfare Society hall, where tall white tapers and a four-tiered wedding cake appointed the bridal table. Among those assisting at the reception were Miss Pauline Loos, Miss Shirley Will, Miss Janice Loos, Miss Miriam Loos, Miss Betty Huenink, Miss Jane Will, Miss Virginia Loos, Miss Alberta Hanneman, Miss Milly Hahn, Mrs. William Loos, Mrs. Don Nielson, Mrs. Ervin Hanneman, Mrs. Harold Sherman, Mrs. George Hock, Mrs. Walter Goeschel, Mrs. Adam Loos, Mrs. C. R. Loos, Mrs. Henry Lebsack, Mrs. Henry Derr, Mrs. Peter Will, Mrs Conrad Klaus, Mrs. Fred Hock, jr., Miss Shirley Will and Mrs. Martin Nissen, jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Thelander will make their home in Lincoln following a short wedding trip. The bride wore for traveling a wool suit in the raspberry tone with a navy blue topcoat and accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Thelander is a member of Nu Phi Mu.

Perfume That Clings

Q.—Dear Penny: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs. A. W.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily, and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance. Try this Houbigant Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $1.85 plus tax at better stores.

Miss Gloria Deer, who has been ill at Lincoln General hospital for the past eight weeks, is reported to be improved and convalescing satisfactorily.

Mrs. Minnie B. Smith is convalescing at home after spending six months in the hospital.

Mid Boos and Cheers ...Life Goes on as Usual

GAVE THE HORIZON much more than a cursory glance this ayem—and didn't see a thing spectacular—not even an Indian—So—we settled down to business in an everyday sort of way, and learned that the non-spectacular—meaning betrothals and the like—can be very interesting—

* * *

DOWN AT WESTMINSTER college (Fulton, Mo.,) this coming week-end, the students are celebrating Mother's day—and among the students are, of course, Randy Ayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ayer—Dick Wieland, son of Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Wieland, and Bob Volz, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Volz.

Understand that the three sets of parents, plus Miss Barbara Bell, are going to Fulton for the activities which include intramurals, golf, a baseball game — doubtless for the benefit of the fathers—a tea —open house at the fraternity houses—and dinner Sunday at the fraternity houses—Since the Lincoln delegation at Westminster all are members of Phi Delta Theta, that chapter house will be headquarters for the Lincoln parents.

* * *

AT HOME — mid boos and cheers, life goes on as usual—a little bridge—a birthday or two—a guest courtesy—and that about tells the story—

* * *

BUT BEFORE WE begin the day's labors locally speaking, think you might like to hear a word or two about the Nixes—Mr. and Mrs. (she was Helen Ryons Branch)—In a letter to Lincoln relatives Mrs. Walter White tells of having seen Mr. Nix, and Henry Branch, III—midshipman at the United States naval academy at Annapolis—in New York City. Midshipman Branch will graduate in June from the academy, and on hand for the commencement ceremonies, of course, will be his mother and Mr. Nix.

It seems that Mr. Nix, after completing business in New York, will go to Chicago to meet Mrs. Nix, and the two will spend three weeks on the east cosat — including the Annapolis commencement. then—en route to their home in California, they have plans for stopping briefly in Lincoln.

* * *

NO SOONER DID WE GET all of that said than we learned some other interesting news—Mrs. Paul Sweet, the former Kathryn Grummann, arrived on Saturday evening from her home at Whaddon, near Bletchley, Buckinghamshire, England, for a few weeks visit with her sister, Mrs. William I. Rotton and Dr. Rotton.

Mrs. Sweet, who crossed on the Queen Elizabeth, will leave May 24 to return to England—and home.

* * *

HEARD THAT WHEN Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Guenzel made their reservations for the dinner Wednesday evening at the Lincoln Country club—honoring Miss Suzaine Burgess of Omaha, and their son, Jack Guenzel, everyone, including the country club management, forgot about the Iron Derby—So—the dinner will be at Hotel Cornhusker instead.

* * *

SPEAKING OF Miss Burgess—whose marriage to Mr. Guenzel will be an event of Saturday—Mrs. Arden Means, the former Pat Wieland, was hostess to eight guests on Monday evening at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Wieland. The evening was devoted to bridge, and the soon-to-be bride was presented with a miscellaneous shower.

* * *

ON TUESDAY EVENING'S calendar was the dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sweeney were host and hostess at the Lincoln Country club, complimenting Miss Lois Swabel of Berkeley, Calif., the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Stuart. A small group of guests was invited for the dinner and an informal evening.

* * *

WHEN MRS. GLENN YAUSSI entertains at luncheon on Thursday at the University club her guests will include the members of her bridge eightsome. Following luncheon the group will remain at the club for an afternoon of bridge—

* * *

LATE WEEK ACTIVITY at the Lincoln Country club includes a luncheon for which Mrs. Harold Hobbs will be hostess on Friday. Mrs. Hobbs will entertain the members of her birthday club in celebration of Mrs. Glen Deeter's anniversary.

* * *

AND ON FRIDAY EVENING—at the University club—the members of the Fifty Fifty club will meet for dinner and bridge. The committee in charge of the arrangements includes Mrs. Boyd Raynor, chairman; Mrs. Ira D. Beynon, Mrs. Neil Van Dermoer, Mrs. Daniel Stubbs and Mrs. John Yeager.

* * *

THE LAST PARTY OF the season for the members of the Faculty Dancing club will be the dinner dance Saturday evening at Student Union. The affair is planned by a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fossland, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. John Steele, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Nibler, Mr. and Mrs. Deane Finnerty, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Thompson, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Riley.

The fifty-fifth anniversary of the Nebraska Wesleyan Women's Educational Council was celebrated at a tea Tuesday afternoon at the Council room on the Wesleyan campus. Miss Ethel Johnson, dean of women at Nebraska Wesleyan University, spoke on her experiences as a student in Sweden and appeared in a Swedish costume. Pictured above, from left to right, are Mrs. C. C. Bracy, Mrs. H. F. Stone, Mrs. R. D. Stage, Mrs. J. B. Schnell, Mrs. Frank Wilder, Miss Johnson, Mrs. J. E. Bartley, Mrs. E. Late Start By Bobby Shantz Lets Yankees Past, 3-0

NEW YORK—(INS) —Lefty Ed Lopat hurled the New York Yankees to a 3 to 0, four-hit shutout win Tuesday over the Philadelpha Athletics.

The veteran southpaw, who won a two-hitter in his opening effort against the Red Sox, was given all the runs he needed in the first inning.

After Rookie Mickey Mantle was robbed of a homer by a spectacular catch by Elmer Valo, the Yankees teed off on little Bobby Shantz, who gave up only six hits for three runs.

Jerry Coleman got on with an infield hit and Yogi Berra walked. Joe DiMaggio scored Coleman with a single and sent Berra to third. Jackie Jensen's fly to right delivered Berra and DiMaggio came across when Johnny Mize singled through the box.

INDIANS 5—SOX 2.

CLEVELAND—(INS) — Rapid Robert Feller, displaying skill and poise that boded ill for the rest of the American League, chalked up his second win of the young season Tuesday as he hurled the Cleveland Indians to a 5 to 2 victory over the Chicago White Sox at Cleveland.

The White Sox got ten hits off Feller, three of them by shortstop Al Carrasquel.

The Indians got only eight hits off southpaw Bob Cain, but three of them were doubles by Luke Easter, Larry Doby and Merrill Combs to drive in crucial runs.

SENATORS 7, Red Sox 5

BOSTON— (INS) —Lefty Bob Kuzava steered the Washington Senators to a 7 to 5 victory over the Boston Red Sox Tuesday, although three of the six hits off him were homers.

All the Boston runs scored on round-trippers. Clyde Vollmer and Bobby Doerr each hit with a mate aboard, and Ted Williams socked his third of the year with the bases empty.

BRAVES 7, BUMS 4

NEW YORK— (INS) — Sid Gordon clouted a three-run homer in the eighth inning for the Boston Braves Tuesday to snap Brooklyn's five-game winning streak, 7 to 4.

Gordn's hit brought the Braves from the short end of a 3-to-2 score and two more came home in the ninth. Carl Erskine and Don Bankhead allowed only two hits but gave five passes in those last two innings.

PIRATES 6—CUBS 4

CHICAGO — (INS) — Wally Westlake's three run homer in the first inning led the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 6 to 4 decision over the Chicago Cubs Tuesday in a rain-interrupted game at Wrigley Field.

CARDS 3—REDS 1

ST. LOUIS—(INS) — Pitcher Max Lanier limited the Cincinnati Reds to one run Tuesday as the St. Louis Cardinals swept their two-game series with the Reds by winning the second contest, 3 to 1.

PHILS 6, GIANTS 4

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — The Philadelphia Phillies hammered six pitchers for 12 hits, including five doubles and a triple Tuesday night to defeat the New York Giants, 6 to 4.

It was the sixth straight loss for the Giants.

Big League Nebraskans

What Nebraskans did in the Big Leagues Tuesday:

BOBBY SHANTZ, (Lincoln A's), Philadelphia A's—gave only six hits to the New York Yankees in losing 3-0. He gave up two walks, struck out two, and got one hit in three times at bat off Ed Lopat, Yankee hurler.

NELLIE FOX, (Lincoln A's), Chicago White Sox—helped in two double plays and got no hits in four times at bat against the Cleveland Indians.

RICHIE ASHBURN, (Tilden), Philadelphia Phillies—got a double in four times at the plate, drivinv in two runs.

Mr. Fay Visits Mr. Reynolds

BILL GLASSFORD, gridmaster of the Huskers, greeted an old friend in his coliseum office the other day.

He was no other than Jimmy Hegan, who was athletic director at Pittsburgh during Bill's player days there.

Jimmy is now an industrial relations man with United States Steel. His position is similar to that held by Harry Stuhldreher, the old Horseman, with the same company.

Bill Glassford

Hegan was here to interview 20 University of Nebraska engineering students.

"We sure wanted Glassford at Pittsburgh a year ago," Jimmy told The Firing Line. "Even in his playing days you could see the mark of leadership on him."

Our Boy Glassford is in demand these days as a guest instructor at coaching schools. That ground-eating Husker offense of 1951 drew national attention.

Bill leaves Thursday for Champaign, Ill., where he will head the University of Illinois coaching school.

He'll be headman at the University of Alabama football seminary in mid-summer and, of course, will head up the annual University of Nebraska coaching school in August.

Looks like old times at Nebraska with a gridmaster in national demand, a contender for national pole vault honors, an All-America footballer, a Big Seven grid contender and an indoor track crown.

We're not hearing any complaints.

READERS of this corner might recall our tirades last fall at Collier's mag All-America selections.

Husker Bobby Reynolds, who was later named to no less than 14 All-America teams, was completely ignored in the Collier's selections. Author Bill Fay did not even mention the dashing Scarlet soph in his list of midwest standouts.

No ommission ever made an All-America selector look worse.

Evidently picked before the season was even under way, Fay's skipping of Reynolds brought a tremendous flood of dissenting letters on the mag.

So you know what happened last week?

A writer named Bill Fay was in Lincoln doing a feature story for Collier's on Mr. Reynolds.

Fay and his magazine, it seems, were not going to be twice left at the post.

THERE will be a vast change in the University of Minnesota football team next fall.

No longer will bulk and height be the prime essentials. Wes Fesler, the new Gopher headmaster, sized up 1950 Minnesota game movies and established a new battle cry: "Run, Run, Run!"

He is demanding speed and quick reaction in his 1951 Minnesota edition.

It was Bernie Bierman's undoing, we thought, that he continued to emphasize plain power in this day of T-formation speed, trickery and passing.

Dodgers Nip Indians, 5-3; Rain Halts Rest

Compiled from Press Dispatches

PUEBLO, Colo. — Old Jupiter Pluvius apparently had it in for the Western league Tuesday night as rain, wet grounds and threatening weather halted three of four scheduled loop shows.

In the only game to escape postponement, Pueblo's Dodgers overcame an early Wichita lead to nip the cellar-dwellers, 5-3, before a crowd of 922.

BRIEF LEAD

Wichita took a 2-0 lead in the first frame on singles by Jim King and Bob Wakefield and three walks. Wakefield knocked in the first run and the second was forced in by a walk.

In the third inning Pueblo scored three when Don Taylor smacked a double with the bases loaded; and in the eighth it was Pueblo gaain for two, when Kent Pflasterer's triple pushed in Al Ronning and Pflasterer was able to steal home.

Wichita made its final run in the ninth as Les Filkins led off with a walk. Pinchhitter Don Van Nest boosted him to third with a single to right-center and he scored on Faber Gowman's outfield fly. After that Carl Howerton singled and another walk loaded the bases.

Pitcher Ed Yasinski got out of the jam by retiring the next two batsmen.

Elsewhere in the loop, Des Moines' meeting with the Lincoln A's at the Nebraskan's plant was called off when wet grounds and the threat of rain made the move advisable.

Rain at Sioux City forced postponement of the Soo-Omaha Cardinal meeting while threatening weather at Colorado Springs forced Sky Sox officials to call off the game slated for Tuesday night wath Denver.

Wendesday's schedule calls for Des Moines at Lincoln, Wichita at Pueblo, Omaha at Sioux City and Denver at Colorado Springs.

Weather Halts A's, Des Moines

. . . Play Two Wednesday

A wet field and cold weather forced cancellation of the Lincoln-Des Moines game at Sherman Field Tuesday night, starting at 6:30.

Business Manager Carl Pusey of the A's announced that the teams will play a double-header Wednesday night.

"As present matters stand, I intend to pitch Dutch Romberger in the first game and Bud Carey in the second," said Manager Frank Skaff.

Need Hitting

Pusey said that the Sherman Field infield was soft enough to sink past your shoe level.

Skaff, whose A's have a 2-2 record in Western league competition thus far, has been fairly well satisfied with the fielding and the pitching.

"The boys have hustled all the way," he concluded, "but we need more hitting."

Miss Burke Finds Mae Tough Foe

. . . Finally Wins

BY DON STRASHEIM
(Star Sports Staff Member)

Over 1,800 raving fans got their money's worth at a colorful wrestle card at the fairgrounds Tuesday night. Everything happened that could happen in the ring.

Referee Joe Krejci lost his ants—Mildred Burke was pinned for the first time in her career—

One main event gave Mae Young the opportunity to grab the women's world championship wrtsling crown from Mildred Burke. Miss Young almost got the job done before she was disqualified by ref Krejci.

Mae didn't seem to care for the referee's decisions and just to show him that he didn't wear the pants in the ring—she took them completely off Krejci and threw them from the ring.

CAUGHT UNAWARES

You can say that Krejci was caught with his pants "off." He doesn't wear red polka dot shorts.

In an interview with Miss Young after the contest she said, "the ref got se so mad by pushing me around all the time that I just lost my temper and decided to show him he wasn't the only one in the ring."

Her temper might have cost her the World's Championship.

The girls started out with a mild form of "hair-pulling." Before the contest was over, everything and anything was used by both gals.

Mae's hands seemed to have a strange affinity for Miss Burke's hair. The ref got into the act by pulling Mae's hair. Later on, she got even with Joe. She used a double head scissors on him until he could hardly breathe. He soon let the two alone and began to watch the match and not participate in it.

Miss Young pinned the Champ after 10:15 was gone—the first time in history that she has ever been pinned. A very simple body press was the lucky hold.

The champion came back in the second round and got the grapevine on the challenger and made her cry "uncle," but not enough to make her "give."

After a brief scrimmage in a neutral corner, the Champ very casually tapped Miss Young on the shoulder and hung a right uppercut on her chine as she innocently turned around to see who tapped her.

She fell to the floor in a daze and Miss Burke pounced upon her like a hungry wolf and the end came at 22:05.

Mae was disqualified at 31:15 because Krejci wasn't man to keep the young lady from taking his pants off.

Mike DiBiase was wrestling within the rules most of the time in his bout with Ras Samara. Only one time in the first round he used his "dirty" tactics. This was just a few seconds before Mike pinned Ras; he used a right cross to floor the African champ and then went into a body press for the fatal hold.

Ras came back and pinned Mike with a body press at 28:45.

The final seconds o fthe final fall were hard to bear without laughing. Ras used the ring post to get leverage and pushed so hard that he over-extended his body and while attempting to pin Mike he let both of his shoulders to the mat and pinned himself.

Had he not been pinned, he could have been disqualified for using the ropes and the post to his advantage.

Bob Geigel put Dick Dusek away in 22:10 with a body press. It was one of the finest preliminary bouts ever seen at the fairgrounds.

By popular demand, Miss Mae Young will return to the Lincoln fairgrounds next week.

Huskers Rained Out

The Nebraska-Kansas baseball game that was to be played Tuesday was postponed because of wet grounds. The Wildcats went back to Manhattan the same day.

The next Husker home baseball game will be Friday with Wichita. The two teams will meet again Saturday on the Husker diamond.

One of the top members of the British Admiralty is over here to find out what makes the U.S. Navy's Seabees tick. The Seabees are the lads who are equally at home with a gun or a bulldozer. They can lay down an airfield, set up a hospital, construct a landing dock, or take a place in the firing line without changing their clothes. They're the fellows who contributed so much to our Pacific island-hopping . . . and they didn't wait till the shooting ceased before they started rearranging the geography. In some places they hit the beach before many of the Marines. And that's really getting out in front.

Massachusetts just passed a law defining a bean blower as a "weapon." Not only that, but it uses up ammunition that is necessary to Boston's traditions. We have traditions too. For instance . . . we make it a point to recondition and guarantee every used car on our lot. That way you're sure of value for your investment. And we're sure of return-engagement customers. Seward Cindermen Clip Teachers In Track Dual

Losses In Hurdles, Mile Relay Drop Tutor Squad From Show

BY JERRY MAPES
(Star Sports Staff Member)

Seward and Teachers high squared off in a dual track meet Tuesday afternoon at the University of Nebraska layout, with the Teachers winding up on the short end of a 62 1/6 to 55 5/6 score.

It was just a matter of too much strength in the hurdle events for Dale Snook's boys to fathom. The Seward crew slammed both the high and low stick events for a valuable 18 points.

Up until that time it was nip and tuck and as a matter of fact all the Tutors needed was to pull the mile relay from their bag of tricks—but this just wasn't agreeable to their foes.

With two events remaining the Tutors were trailing by a slim four and two-sixths point margin. With Matzke a pretty good bet to cop pole vaultiing first place honors, it was up to the quartet of mile relayers to pull Snook's boys out of the pickle vat.

Seward added insult to injury by waltzing past the Tutor foursome using Harold Matthes, Bob Teal, Jim Rada and Jim Griffin.

First In Vault

Matzke, although the Teacher cause was hopeless at that point, grabbed first place in the vault with an 11' 3" effort.

As has been the case in most meets this season involving the Teachers crew, the combined efforts of Matzke and Mike Stubbs arranged for over half of their team's total.

Matzke moved steadily away from the mile field to win that event in a 4:56 clocking. He also added firsts in the high jump and the vault. The natural Tutor athlete's winning high jump was 5' 6", over a half a foot under his best mark.

Mike Stubbs, Snook's valuable dash man, came through with victories in the century and the 220-yard dashes. The vastly improved Stubbs added a win in the broad jump and anchored the winning 880-yard relay squad.

In the meet's outstanding race, Lefty Hixon and Seward's Jim Rada strained all the way down the final stretch of the 880-yard run to snap the tape in a near dead heat. Hixon's terrific stretch drive netted him the nod by a button.

School Employes Get Salary Adjustments

Follows Pay Boosts For Executives

Board Of Education Approves Raises To Be Effective July 1

The Lincoln board of education Tuesday followed up its recent pay raise for school executives with a salary adjustment for virtually all remaining school employes.

Salary adjustments, approved unanimously by the board and becoming effective July 1, 951, include:

Increases ranging from a minimum of 65 cents per hour (for luncheon assistants), increasing at a two-and-a-half cent hourly rate over a five year period, to a maximum of $1 per hour (for managers) with the same hourly increase over the same period.

Day-to-day supply assistants will receive 65 cents per hour and student cashiers, 55 cents.

A salary schedule for operation and maintenance personnel with basic increases of $200 plus an increment, or a total of $300 on a 12 months schedule.

The schedule ranges from a minimum of $2,020 per year for assistant custodians (women) to a starting minimum of $2,200 per year for head custodians.

The new minimums are $200 higher than those now in effect and the maximums are $300 higher.

Individual Adjustments

Individual adjustments were made for the foreman of operation, the assistant custodian in charge of boys' physical education equipment and for bus foreman, the latter a new classification.

Staff members with a bachelor degree, whose training requires the equivalent of five years preparation, were placed on the accepted schedule of members with a masters degree.

The minimum schedule of clerical staff members on a 12 months basis was raised $200. All employes not up to the maximum will receive the regular increase plus $200.

Employes now in the maximum, and on a 12 months basis, will receive a total increase of $300 provided the increase does not exceed the new maximum.

Assistant Superintendents

Also approved, with one board member dissenting, was a recommended salary adjustment for assistant superintendents.

Assistant Superintendent in Charge of Business Affairs David Sell will receive a salary of $7,250, a $950 increase.

An increase from $5,500 to $6,500 was approved for Ralph H. Park, assistant superintendent in charge of operation and maintenance.

The board also approved the purchase of a lot adjoining the Riley School grounds for $500. The lot, 50 feet by 143 feet, is the property of Miss Gertrude Robey.

The board accepted the following resignations:

Katherine Kimball, Mrs. Mary B. Overton, Mrs. Shirley Meyers, Harold O. Noble, Mrs. Katherine Giddings, Mrs Glenna Anderson, Mrs. Phyllis Blumer, Mrs. Margaret E. Anderson.

Mrs. Geraldine R. Draney, Mrs. Ruth E. Hamilton, Mrs. Agnes Hellman, Jacquelyn Hill, Mrs. Phyllis Hovendick, Donna M. Jones, Mrs. Joyce Krueger, Mrs. Eloise M Lockwood.

Mrs. Regina Luchtel, Mrs. Pauline A. Norman, Mrs. Bernadine Ostermiller, Regina Sheridan, Mrs. Carolyn Ann Stoddart, Mrs. Iona E. Taylor, Mrs. Margaret Turner, Mrs. Esther Vance, Mrs. Beverly Van Lund and Mrs. Marilyn Curtis.

According to latest figures submitted the board, 66.9 per cent, or $1,861,700, of the 1950-1 budget has been collected. One year ago collections were at the 64.5 per cent mark.

97 Are Dead In Japanese Train Wreck

Three GIs Die In Blazing Cars

YOKOHAMA — (INS) — The second largest train wreck in the history of Japan killed 97 persons Tuesday, including three American soldiers, and injured 39 others.

The first two cars of an electrically-powered train burst into flames when an overhead wire snapped as the train headed into the depot here.

Railroad officials said only four or five persons escaped alive from the burning cars.

The death toll was exceeded only by a wreck in 1947 when 190 persons lost their lives in a Tokyo collision.

Witnesses said an overhead electric wire snapped and fell onto one of the cars, immediately setting off a chain reaction of sparks and electric shocks which flared into a blinding display.

A jet pilot must start to slow down for a landing 10 to 20 miles from the airport.

City To Defend Self Against Plan To Construct Dam

The city's legal and engineering departments were authorized by the city council Tuesday to proceed with the city's defense against the request of the Citizens Power committee to construct a dam on the Platte river south of Ashland to manufacture power.

The Committee has recently filed its application for construction with the federal power commission in Washington.

City Engineer D. L. Erickson termed the situation "very, very serious" as it could affect the city's entire water supply and cause it to be located elsewhere.

Damages claimed some time ago by all interested groups was approximately $45,000,000. Mayor Victor E. Anderson told the council that the railroads have already spent over $20,000 in defending themselves against the dam.

Evergreen, Pine Supply Exhausted

The supply of evergreen and pine Clark-McNary trees is completely exhausted.

That was the report from Extension Forester Earl G. Maxwell at the University of Nebraska. Earlier, he had announced that there was a "surplus" of the trees at the Nebraska national forest at Halsey.

It didn't take long for farmers and ranchers to apply for the trees. No more applications will be accapted for evergreens; however, some Chinese elm are still available, says Maxwell.

Commissioners Hit Tax Board Measure

Request Law Be Killed By Legislature

Copie Of Resolution Opposing Bill Sent To Three Senators

The Lancaster county commissioners Tuesday asked the legislature—through the county's legislative delegation — to kill the bill which would set up a tax appraisal board here.

The commissioners, who have strenuously opposed the measure, sent copies of a resolution to Senators Tom Adams, Robert McNutt and Otto Liebers. Adams and McNutt introduced the bill, but McNutt Tuesday withdrew his support.

In their resolution, the commissioners asked that the bill be considered only on an entire state basis as embodied in LB 514.

To back up their stand, the commissioners prepared a comparison of increases of tangible property valuations in six nearby counties from 1946 to 1950.

The report showed Lancaster county's tangible valuation has increased 28.7 per cent, compared to 29.9 for Douglas county. Personal property valuation increased 77.4, the same as Douglas county's.

Omaha Board

The 1947 legislature passed a bill setting up a tax appraisal board in Omaha. Its three members, appointed by the governor, are paid from county funds.

The commissioners here maintain that Lancaster county's accessed valuation has kept pace with Douglas county's even though the latter has such a board.

The commissioners Tuesday praised the job the new assessor, Art Davis, is doing. They added that they believe no change should be made, such as adding a tax appraisal board, before Davis has finished at least one year's work.

They termed the bill "unjustified criticism" against Lancaster county taxpayers in that it would force the expenditure of about $40,000 without local control.

Commissioners Perturbed

The commissioners were particularly perturbed about the statements made by Adams before the legislature last Friday. Adams said he knew of three drug stores that had never been carried on assessment lists.

"If he knows of such instances—and he's a public official just like the rest of us—why hasn't he come in and given us this information," the commissioners chorused at their meeting Tuesday.

Adams has steadfastly refused to disclose the stores. He told The Star Tuesday night he "doesn't want to expose any taxpayers."

Adams added that he definitely thinks the bill will pass the legislature even though his associate, McNutt, has withdrawn his name as co-introducer.

Adams said he would be glad to appear before the board, but he doubted whether he would disclose the "missing" drug stores.

McNutt explained Tuesday that he thought the bill, if passed, would cause too great expense because it was set up on the same basis as the one in Douglas county. He also said he now believes that it is premature and that the present county assessor should first be given a chance to work out assessment problems.

Stolen: 2-Room House

DENVER—(INS)—Denver authorities Tuesday are searching for a missing two-room house. Lloyd Herrera bought the house from realtor R. J. Fricke, but complained when he went to view it the dwelling had disappeared.

Edgy Nerves Show Up In Legislature

Two Solons Speak To Save Reputation

Edgy nerves of legislators were reflected Tuesday when two senators spoke, both pleading it was to "save my reputation."

Sen. Ed Lusienski said he wanted to tell the legislature for their information that an official of Consumers Power Co. had been approached to urge Lusienski "to lay off LB 367." He said it was the first time in his six sessions that such a proposition had been suggested to him. He explained that he was a power company employe.

Senator Williams replied that he was the senator and that his conversation with the power company official was merely a casual conversation in which he discussed the possibility that activity by Lusienski against LB 367 might affect other bills.

'Not Interested'

The Ravenna senator said that he was not interested in Paul Blotcky or anybody else. Blotcky is the only member of the wholesale liquor dealers association who has favored LB 367 at hearings.

LB 367 has been tabbed an "anti-monopoly" measure and promises to produce a hot fight when it comes to the floor of the legislature. Senator Lusienski Tuesday asked that it not be considered until after the report of the liquor investigating committee has been acted upon. He is a member of the investigating committee.

Senator Williams, author of the bill, did not object to the delay, but he predicted the battle "will be rough."

"Some boys yesterday came to me and tried to get me to withdraw the bill," he told the legislature.

'Not Their Own Boss'

"Retailers in Nebraska today are not their own boss. They have to do what they are told. They were for this bill, but then the heat was put on them and they started writing in to kill the bill.

"When one (wholesale) firm does 50 per cent of the business last month, we know something is wrong," Williams asserted.

He said he referred to Ed Phillips and Sons Company of St. Paul, Minn., which he charged "controls not only Nebraska, but also Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Wisconsin."

Pay Raises Approved

Action by the legislature included initial approval of pay raises for the governor, Supreme court and district judges.

The governor was raised from $10,000 to $11,000, and the judges were raised $600 a year. Supreme court judges now get $8,500 and district judges, $6,800.

The legislature advanced seven bills on general file and two were indefinitely postponed. Killed was LB 426 which would have permitted matching of federal funds fo ra school building survey and LB 372 dealing with cutting trees along highways.

City Studies Problem Of Loose Dogs

Welfare and Safety Director Ray Osborn was advised by the city council Tuesday to discuss with L. C. Loomis, superintendent of the Humane society, what can be done in regard to dogs running lose in the city.

Miss Emma McCamley, 4703 Madison, appeared before the council in protest to dogs that she said destroyed gardens and lawns and dumped over garbage.

While City Attorney John Jacobson advised the council and Miss McCamley that city ordinances forbid dogs to run loose, he later discovered that the ordinance he read did not refer to dogs but to other animals such as pigs, chickens, cattle, etc.

The present ordinance on the situation provides that dogs may run loose in the city but that the owners are liable for any damages the dogs do to another's property.

When contacted on the matter Loomis stated that the society encourages owners to keep their dogs at home but when dog damage is done the owners usually pay for it.

Besides the blow it would be to the youngsters, he said, if dogs were prohibited from running at large, it would increase the problem by more howling, barking and biting dogs.

Cigaret, Beer Theft

Theft of six cartons of cigarets and nearly two cases of beer from Dot's Inn over the week-end was reported to the county sheriff's office by Clem Gaughan, owner of the tavern. Entrance was made by breaking a glass in the north door.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Horse Clinics Mechanized

RALEIGH, N. C.—(AP)—Here's further proof—if further proof is needed—that Old Dobbin is giving way to the wonders of the machine age. A horse and mule clinic was once an important annual event in practically every community in North Carolina. Farmers for miles around brought their workstock in for a checkup before the rush of spring plowing began.

Clinics are still held. But now, instead of talking about horses and mules, farmers spend their time learning how to adjust carburetors or lubricate moving parts on the farm tractor. J. C. Ferguson, extension agricultural engineer at N. C. State college, says community tractor maintenance schools are rapidly replacing the old horse and mule clinics. A few counties still hold workstocsk clinics too, but the number of farmers attending has shown a sharp decline in the past few years.

Wheat Leads Grain Market

CHICAGO — (AP) — Wheat pushed ahead as much as 3¾ cents a bushel at the board of trade Tuesday and carried other grains to higher levels.

New export business, continued pessimistic reports from the winter wheat section, and adverse Korean war news were the dominating factors in trading.

At the finish wheat was 3¼ to 3⅝ higher, corn was 1 to 1⅛ higher, oats were ⅞ to 1¼ higher, rye was 3½ to 4¾ higher, soybeans were 1¼ to 2 cents higher and lard was 5 to 15 cents a hundredweight higher.

Feed grains went along with wheat, corn gaining some support from rain in Iowa, where feed seeding probably will be further delayed. There was also opinion that some export business in corn is due soon. Some traders said that oat acreage in the southern sections will be restricted.

Soybeans advanced with other futures, but dealings were generally quiet and the advance slow.

Stocks Waver; Lose Up To $1

NEW YORK —(AP)— A sudden selling squall late in the session pushed prices down fractions to around $1 a share Tuesday after the stock market had wavered uncertainly during the first four hours of trading.

A few stocks dropped as much as $2 during the final hour but a majority of the losses by far were counted in fractions.

The selling was accompanied by a very slight increase in volume and trading for the entire session was only 1,420,000 shares, a good deal better than Monday's 1,160,000 but still below recent averages.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 50 cents at $94.60 and all categories of the market—industrials, rails and utilities—showed decuines.

Wheat Crop Badly Hurt By Drouth

Damage Said Severe West Of Highway 81

Nebraska's winter wheat was damaged badly by the dry autumn and winter weather, State-Federal Crop Statistician A. E. Anderson declared Tuesday.

Anderson made the blunt comment in his weekly crop report after a field trip.

He said, "While the damage is statewide, it increases in severity westward from Highway 81. The underlying cause was the severe drouth and warm weather in January and February that apparently caused wheat to lose some of its winter hardiness which, followed by low temperatures killed the underground crown of the plant."

Then he explained:

The drouth was greatly aggravated by the fact most wheat had made luxurious growth due to the favorable soil moisture situation in the early fall. This removed the surface moisture and none was received to replenish it. So the soil was loose and permeable to the cold air, which following the loss of some of the winter hardiness, made the crop vulnerable to injury from freezing.

Wind Damage

Anderson added that sandy soil in areas that had received moisture showed much less winter kill than dry sandy soil.

hTen, he said, there were high winds, insects, and diseases such as orange leaf rust added to the loss.

In southern Kimball county, Anderson stated, entire fields have been reseeded, adding "it is a little early to get definite information on abandonment because so much of the wheat with thin stands may yet come on as roots are emerging from much of this damaged wheat."

Anderson concluded "moisture and warmth may yet save enough wheat in western Nebraska to produce a fair crop. X X Regardless a severe damage is apparent X X X. Continuation of dry, cold, unfavorable weather will increase the loss."
